COMMISSIONERS ASK BIDS FOR COUNTY PRISON

Adams county commissioners at their weekly meeting today voted to advertise for bids for the construction of a new county jail.

With plans and specifications for the two-story masonry structure completed weeks ago by their architect, John B. Hamme, York, the commissioners labelled the present need for a new county prison as "imperative."

The commissioners said that the bids will be accepted and the contract awarded "subject to the availability of materials." The question of availability of materials has been the chief cause of delay in the jail plans which have been under consideration for months.

The bids on the new jail will be opened February 25 at 2 o'clock, Daylight Saving Time. The commissioners are reserving the right to reject any or all bids.

On Biglerville Road
Plans and specifications for the new structure are available for prospective bidders either from Mr. Hamme or from the office of the commissioners at the court house.

Plans call for the erection of a two-story masonry structure with irregular dimensions of approximately 100 by 100 feet. Months ago the site for the structure was selected along the Biglerville road, just north of the borough line on county farm land. The jail is to be erected along the east side of the highway a short distance south of the lane leading from the Biglerville road to the county home buildings.

Architect Hamme was here this morning to confer with the commissioners and this afternoon he accompanied them to the county home where they inspected buildings covered in the January grand jury. The grand jurors recommended that a current improvement program at the county home be continued and that the unused wing of the old insane department be converted into an infirmary to provide for bed cases there.

Machines For Defense Work Sought Here

Gettysburg and Adams county may receive some defense contracts if suitable machinery is available here.

The Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce has been asked to make a survey of the county relative to assuming some defense work. President Mares Sherman today issued an appeal to all countians to notify the local Chamber offices if they have or know of the following: Engines or motors of any kind or make or style; drill presses; lathes, milling machines; painting and spraying equipment and such other equipment as may be suitable for defense work.

Those knowing of such equipment are requested to notify the Chamber and advise whether they will lend, lease or sell such equipment.

Discuss Child Welfare Program

Members of the advisory committee of the Adams County Child Welfare Services and the Adams county commissioners met Tuesday evening in the court house with Miss Eleanor Mecklenburg, field supervisor for the state rural child welfare division, to discuss the plans for conducting the year's work in the county.

The group received and accepted with regret the resignation of the Rev. George H. Bernheimer, Ardenville, who begins active duty with the Army this week. The vacancy is to be filled next month.

Aunt Hears Nephew Safe On Destroyer

Ensign Oscar David MacMillan, graduate of Annapolis and nephew of Miss Margaret MacMillan, executive secretary of the Adams county Red Cross chapter, has written his aunt here that he is safe and well. The card did not give any indication of his whereabouts. He is aboard a U. S. destroyer and his last known assignment was in the Pacific. Tuesday's card was the first word Miss MacMillan received from her nephew since war began.

Sugar Stamps

Washington, Feb. 4 (AP)—Special "sugar stamps" to be issued by the government to registered consumers, will be required before purchases can be made under the pending sugar rationing program, it was learned today.

Each stamp will permit an individual to buy 12 ounces of sugar—his weekly ration.

A spokesman for the office of price administration disclosed that booklets containing enough stamps to last three months or more would be printed and that the time required for the printing would delay operation of the rationing machinery for at least another month.

FARMERS WILL MEET THURSDAY AT HIGH SCHOOL

The complete program for the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Adams County Agricultural Extension Association will be held at the high school here on Thursday. President Harry E. Brown, Fairfield, will preside with an expected attendance of several hundred farmers and their wives.

The opening devotional service at 10 o'clock Thursday morning will be conducted by the Rev. H. W. Stenat, Biglerville Lutheran pastor. The treasurer's report will be given by Q. D. Rebert, Littlestown, and President Brown will appoint a nominating committee.

Beginning at 10:30 o'clock high lights of the extension program in agriculture and home economics will be presented. The home economics program follows: Brushtown, "Streamlined Fairytale"; White Hall club, a reading, "Strictly Personal"; Fairfield, vocal music, Hampton club, "Grandma Needs Her Vitamins"; Greentown and New Chester club reports; Barlow, "Look Out for Louise"; and then Miss Adams will review home economics club work in general in the county during the last hour.

To Elect Directors
Then County Agent M. T. Hartman and his assistant, Russell F. Mollenauer, will present an illustrated report on project work in agricultural subjects. The report of the nominating committee will be presented before the noon recess.

The farmers will enjoy a Gettysburg high school band concert from 1:20 to 1:45 o'clock in the afternoon with the election of directors set for 1:50 o'clock. The chief afternoon speaker will be H. G. Niesley, assistant extension director from State College. His subject will be "A Challenge to Agriculture." There will be a one-act play by members of the high school dramatic club under the direction of Miss Ruth A. McElhenry. Adjournment is set for 3:30 o'clock.

2 RESIGN FROM COUNTY BOARD

Resignations of two members of the Adams County Board of Public Assistance were announced today and are effective immediately. Both were submitted to and have been accepted by Governor James.

Last Saturday James B. Aumen, chairman of the county assistance board since he became a member of that body on May 16, 1939, sent his resignation to the governor with the explanation that his numerous other duties make it necessary for him to give up some of his responsibilities. Mr. Aumen is president of the Gettysburg fire company, treasurer of the state firemen's organization, chief fire warden for Adams and two other counties in the national defense program, county probation officer, secretary of the Gettysburg Aerie of the Eagles and is prominent in many other activities.

Mr. Aumen said that his relations with the other members of the board always have been "very pleasant" and that he always has received "wonderful cooperation." He regrets the necessity of giving up that position, Mr. Aumen stated.

The other resigning member is Lloyd W. Kuhn, cashier of the Bensenville National Bank, who said it was necessary for him to submit his resignation because he has "too many other duties." He has been a member of the board for a year. Both Mr. Aumen and Mr. Kuhn were re-appointed for new terms on the board by Governor James on December 22, 1941.

RED CROSS IS GEARING FOR FINAL "PUSH"

The Red Cross War Relief fund campaign is entering the "home stretch" with but a little more than $4,000 to raise to reach the $13,000 quota set for Adams county.

Officers of the Adams county chapter and members of the committee in charge of the campaign are pleased with the results attained so far. Nearly $9,000 has been raised in approximately seven weeks without resorting to a house-to-house canvass.

"Adams county has never failed to raise its quota in any Red Cross emergency and we are satisfied that there will be no failure in this instance," a spokesman for the campaign committee said today.

Seek Early Close
"We are going to double our efforts to go down the 'home stretch' at the same pace that has been maintained so far. This means that the drive can be completed in another two or three weeks, without the necessity of a house-to-house canvass, if the campaign is supported as it has been up to date."

Advance reports, indicating that many communities have exceeded their quota, are spurring the Adams county committee to bring the local drive to a successful conclusion in the shortest possible time.

At noon today the total stood at $8,735.29.

Clifford Chapman Safe In Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Chapman, Orr-lanna R. D., have learned of the safety of their son, Private Clifford Chapman, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

The Chapmans received a letter Monday from their son, the first since last October, telling them of his safety. He stated two letters written since the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor had apparently gone astray. Chapman enlisted in the army in December, 1939, and has been stationed in Hawaii since that time.

COUNTY NATIVE PASSES; ACTIVE CHURCH WORKER

Mrs. Elizabeth Lott Boyer, 76, wife of William W. Boyer, died at 9 o'clock Tuesday evening at her home in Franklin township where she lived for the last 27 years. Crippled with arthritis so that she was unable to walk for more than 20 years, Mrs. Boyer had been bed-fast for the last six years. The immediate cause of death was a kidney infection.

Mrs. Boyer was born at Plainview, Straban township, and was a daughter of the late Cornelius and Mary Jane (McElhenry) Lott. Her father's and her mother's families were among the earliest settlers of Adams county.

She attended Woodside public school, and the former Hunterstown Academy then taught by Dr. John Dickson. For one year she was a pupil in Miss Mary McElhenry's Private School in Gettysburg. In 1888, she graduated from the Cumberland Valley State Normal School, Shippensburg. She taught in the county in a private summer subscription school for several years and also at Bridge school, Butler township, at Round Top school, Cumberland township and in the Gettysburg public schools.

Church, Temperance Worker
On December 31, 1885, she was married to Mr. Boyer at Rock Creek, in the Lott homestead in Cumberland township, and went to Ardenville to live. There she was active as a temperance worker, helping to re-organize the W.C.T.U. and serving as Mothers' superintendent. She remained a member of the organization all her life.

As a young woman Mrs. Boyer joined the United Presbyterian church of Gettysburg and remained a member of that church as long as the church survived. She was one of the last surviving members of that early county church. In Ardenville she was a member of the Lutheran church, teaching a Sunday School class and serving as superintendent of the Primary department.

Porky And Major Are Pals; Porky Saves Major's Life

Corunna, Ont., Feb. 4 (AP)—Inseparable pals are Major, an 18-month-old 175-pound St. Bernard, and Porky, a little mongrel of questionable ancestry.

Major hasn't yet reached maturity as far as dog sense goes, and thereby hangs a tale.

In warm weather Major liked to swim in the St. Clair river. Yesterday he went down and tried to pioneer on ice. Major is a lot of dog for thin ice—too much, in fact—and into the water he went.

How long he kept paddling around, breaking more ice as he tried to crawl out nobody knows. But if it weren't for his pal Porky—he's eight years old—Major mightn't be alive today. Major made a decline for his master, Capt. Bernard Zink of

DRAFT BOARD TO REGISTER 1,600 ON FEBRUARY 16

Members of Draft Board No. 1 at New Oxford announced today arrangements for the third registration of men in their district for military service on Monday, February 16. Board members expect about 1,600 men will register in eastern Adams county at the six registration points that will be established for the day.

The registration will take place from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m. at Hunterstown, McSherrystown, York Springs, Hampton, Littlestown and New Oxford. The board has designated a board member or employee to be in charge at each of the registration points and later will notify the public school teachers who are to serve as assistant registrars as to when and where they are to serve.

All males born on or after February 17, 1897, and on or before December 31, 1921, are required to register unless they have registered in either of the previous registrations in October of 1940 or July, 1941. Residents of District No. 1 are requested to go to the registration point most convenient to them.

Teachers Will Help

These registration stations have been announced and the following persons placed in charge at the respective points: Hunterstown, at the Straban township election house with E. L. Golden, board member, in charge; McSherrystown firemen's hall with J. Francis Yake, Esq., government appeal agent for the board in charge; York Springs high school with Mrs. Grace I. Butt, board office employee, in charge; Hampton school building with P. Lawrence Hoover, a member of the draft board, in charge; Littlestown fire engine house with William J. Xingling, draft board member, in charge; and at the draft board office with Mrs. Laura B. Freed, draft board office secretary, in charge.

In line with a proclamation by Governor James closing the public schools on Registration Day, public school teachers will aid with the registration at all of the registration points. They will be notified of the hours and places at which they are to serve after the next draft board meeting next Monday evening.

Board No. 2 meets Thursday to complete its registration arrangements.

JANUARY TIRE QUOTA IS AMPLE FOR THIS AREA

The January allocation of tires and tubes for Adams county was more than adequate under the restrictions laid down, records of the two district rationing boards showed today. Neither board issued permits up to the amount of its allocation.

The boards today announced lists of names of persons granted auto and truck tires. Today's list for Board No. 1 represents permits issued since the publication of their first list while the list from Board No. 2 covers all permits issued in January.

Board No. 1 (in eastern Adams county) received 46 applications. Ten were disapproved as not coming within the strict eligibility classifications laid down by rationing regulations. Permits were issued for 12 tires and seven tubes for passenger cars and light trucks and 17 tires and eight tubes for trucks and buses. In addition 30 obsolete tires and 12 obsolete tubes were issued and five tires and two tubes for farm tractors. The allocation was 16 tires and 14 tubes for passenger cars and light trucks and 41 tires and 34 tubes for trucks and buses.

Thirteen Rejections
Board No. 2 (in western Adams county and including Gettysburg) received a total of 45 applications of which 13 were rejected as ineligible. The board issued permits for 16 tires and 10 tubes for passenger cars and light trucks and 22 tires and 14 tubes for heavy trucks and buses. The same board issued permits for 12 tires and seven tubes of obsolete make. The board allocation was 17 tires and 14 tubes for passenger cars and light trucks and 42 tires and 35 tubes for trucks and buses.

Unused parts of the January allocation cannot be carried over into February, the board members stated. The boards have been ordered to issue separate certificates for tires and tubes going to a single applicant in February. Another recent order received by the tire boards rescinds a previous announcement that passenger cars and light trucks would not be classed together this month. The cars and light trucks again will be handled in the same classification, it was stated. Board members again requested that more

OFFICER TAKES ARMY COURSE

A report from Fort Benning, Georgia, states that Lieutenant Jacob M. Sheads, North Stratton street, a former history teacher at the Gettysburg high school, is now assigned to the infantry school there. He has enrolled for the Company Officers' course, an intense instructional period intended to train men thoroughly in the varied duties of an infantry officer.

The students fire all infantry weapons. They lead troops in actual problems in the field, and they watch demonstrations of proper technique of battle by picked and specially trained men. And in addition they are taught many other important military subjects. They have a full day's program throughout the entire period of their course and must study many hours during the evenings.

Despite the rigid schedule, military men consider it a distinct honor to be selected to attend courses at this distinguished Army school. First established in 1919, the Infantry School has been improved steadily until it reached its present enviable status in the United States military plans.

Troops Mopping Up Remnants Of Invaders On Coast

Washington, Feb. 4 (AP)—A local attack on General Douglas MacArthur's left flank on Batan peninsula the night of February 3 was sharply repulsed, the War department announced today.

A communique also said that a delayed report from the Netherlands Indies disclosed that seven American Army bombers sank two Japanese transports and probably a third in an attack on enemy shipping at Balikpapan on the east coast of Borneo on February 2. The department said this attack was believed to be the same mentioned in a communique issued yesterday by General Sir Archibald Wavell at Batavia.

The text of the communique No. 91 of the war, based on reports received up to 9:30 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, today:

SINGAPORE

Singapore, Feb. 4 (AP)—Artillery batteries on Singapore island roared into action again today, blasting away at Japanese troop movements on the Malay-ian mainland as enemy air raiders unleashed new attacks on this island fortress.

Despite the sudden flurry of artillery and air activity, there was no sign that the Japanese were about to begin their expected attempt to cross Johore Strait, and a communique described the general situation as unchanged.

The announcement said that the new Japanese air assaults had caused some damage but few military casualties.

It was acknowledged officially, however, that 22 persons were killed and 90 injured by air raiders yesterday.

At the same time it was disclosed that anti-aircraft guns had shot down two, and probably three, Japanese planes over the island Sunday and Monday.

RANGOON

Rangoon, Burma, Feb. 3 (Delayed) (AP)—Well-trained Imperial troops hurried into the battle for Burma alongside native battalions skirmished tonight with Japanese patrols along 40 miles of the lower Salween river front but a communique made clear that the Japanese thrusts had not taken on the power of a full scale attack.

The communique disclosed that at least in some places along the river north of abandoned Moulmein the British still held outposts east of the deep, wide jungle stream.

One such British force was said to have met a small Japanese advance unit 30 miles north of Moulmein on the east side of the river.

BATAVIA

Batavia, N.E.I., Feb. 4 (AP)—A massive Japanese bombing fleet attempting to smash Soerabaja, the United Nations' chief base of operations in the Dutch East Indies, fell far short of its mark, the Indies High Command announced today, while on the secondary naval base of Ambon Dutch troops still are battling a Japanese landing force.

(The Tokyo radio as heard in Berlin today claimed that Japanese occupation of Ambon, 635 miles north of Australia and flanking the Allied seaborne supply route, had been completed.)

The attack on Soerabaja was carried out yesterday by 70 to 80 Japanese bombers with heavy fighter escort, the Indies command reported, and the raiders inflicted "very considerable" losses on the Dutch interceptor squadrons when look to the air to meet them.

LIBYA

London, Feb. 4 (AP)—British forces have abandoned Derna, falling back 50 miles in two days on their coastal flank in Libya, a British military commentator declared today.

Philippine theater:

"During the night of February 3, elements of the 16th (Kimura) division made a local attack on our left flank in Batan. The attack was sharply repulsed.

Mop Up Remnants

"Our troops continued to mop up tattered remnants of the Japanese who had previously landed on the west coast or who had infiltrated behind our lines. These enemy troops were from the Tator group and the Kimura division and were found in isolated pockets. No reinforcements were able to reach them. The enemy had attempted to supply them intermittently with food and ammunition dropped by parachute. However, most of these supplies fell into our hands.

"Japanese prisoners of war expressed great surprise at the humane treatment they are receiving at our hands. They said they had been told that we would execute all prisoners.

"On our right there was little activity during the past 24 hours.

"Enemy air activity over our lines was limited to a few sporadic bombing attacks which did no damage.

Netherlands Indies:

Look for Help

"A delayed report advises that seven heavy American Army bombers of the flying fortress type attacked Japanese shipping at Balikpapan, Borneo, on February 2. Two enemy transports were sunk and a third, which was hit repeatedly, was probably sunk. All of our planes returned to their base undamaged. It is believed that this attack is the one mentioned in General Wavell's communique of yesterday.

"3. There is nothing to report from other areas."

The capital looked to American air and sea forces today to take an increasingly heavy toll of Japanese expeditions now threatening Java, but any large scale plan to reinforce the southwestern Pacific area was yet to become evident.

Seek Early Close
"We are going to double our efforts to go down the 'home stretch' at the same pace that has been maintained so far. This means that the drive can be completed in another two or three weeks, without the necessity of a house-to-house canvass, if the campaign is supported as it has been up to date."

Advance reports, indicating that many communities have exceeded their quota, are spurring the Adams county committee to bring the local drive to a successful conclusion in the shortest possible time.

At noon today the total stood at $8,735.29.

Clifford Chapman Safe In Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Chapman, Or-tanna R. D., have learned of the safety of their son, Private Clifford Chapman, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

The Chapmans received a letter Monday from their son, the first since last October, telling them of his safety. He stated two letters written since the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor had apparently gone astray. Chapman enlisted in the army in December, 1939, and has been stationed in Hawaii since that time.

COUNTY NATIVE PASSES; ACTIVE CHURCH WORKER

Mrs. Elizabeth Lott Boyer, 76, wife of William W. Boyer, died at 9 o'clock Tuesday evening at her home in Franklin township where she lived for the last 27 years. Crippled with arthritis so that she was unable to walk for more than 20 years, Mrs. Boyer had been bed-fast for the last six years. The immediate cause of death was a kidney infection.

Mrs. Boyer was born at Plainview, Straban township, and was a daughter of the late Cornelius and Mary Jane (McIlhenny) Lott. Her father's and her mother's families were among the earliest settlers of Adams county.

She attended Woodside public school, and the former Hunterstown Academy then taught by Dr. John Dickson. For one year she was a pupil in Miss Mary McClellan's Private School in Gettysburg. In 1888, she graduated from the Cumberland Valley State Normal School, Shippensburg. She taught in the county in a private summer school and also at Bridge school, Butler township, at Round Top school, Cumberland township and in the Gettysburg public schools.

Church, Temperance Worker

On December 31, 1895, she was married to Mr. Boyer at Rock Creek, in the Lott homestead in Cumberland township, and went to Ardenstville to live. There she was active as a temperance worker, helping to re-organize the W.C.T.U. and serving as Mothers' superintendent. She remained a member of the organization all her life.

As a young woman Mrs. Boyer joined the United Presbyterian church of Gettysburg and remained a member of that church as long as the church existed. She was one of the last surviving members of that early county church. In Ardenstville she was a member of the Lutheran church, teaching a Sunday School class and serving as superintendent of the Primary department.

Porky And Major Are Pals; Porky Saves Major's Life

Corunna, Ont., Feb. 4 (AP)—Inseparable pals are Major, an 18-month-old 175-pound St. Bernard, and Porky, a little mongrel of questionable ancestry.

Major hasn't yet reached maturity as far as dog sense goes, and thereby hangs a tale.

In warm weather Major liked to swim in the St. Clair river. Yesterday he went down and tried to pioneer on ice. Major is a lot of dog for thin ice—too much, in fact—and into the water he went.

How long he kept paddling around, breaking more ice as he tried to crawl out nobody knows. But if it weren't for his pal Porky—he's eight years old—Major mightn't be alive today.

Porky made a beeline for his master, Capt. Bernard Zink of the oil tanker Britomolene, meanwhile sending up distress signals in dog language. Quite a few persons, among them Captain Zink, followed Porky back to the river bank.

They weren't able to do anything so Porky went back to town again. Soon others arrived, but all they could do was to push a long pole to Major, who by this time was too exhausted to do anything but put his paws on it.

It was then that Porky, a runt compared to the St. Bernard, jumped in to aid his pal. There was a lot of splashing, but Porky finally hauled his heavy burden close enough to shore so that the two could be pulled to safety.

Major was too weak to stand, but today he was up to bones again.

DRAFT BOARD TO REGISTER 1,600 ON FEBRUARY 16

Members of Draft Board No. 1 at New Oxford announced today arrangements for the third registration of men in their district for military service on Monday, February 16. Board members expect about 1,600 men will register in eastern Adams county at the six registration points that will be established for the day.

The registration will take place from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m. at Hunterstown, McSherrystown, York Springs, Hampton, Littlestown and New Oxford. The board has designated a board member or employee to be in charge at each of the registration points and later will notify the public school teachers who are to serve as assistant registrars as to when and where they are to serve.

All males born on or after February 17, 1897, and on or before December 31, 1921, are required to register unless they have registered in either of the previous registrations in October of 1940 or July, 1941. Residents of District No. 1 are requested to go to the registration point most convenient to them.

Teachers Will Help

These registration stations have been announced and the following persons placed in charge at the respective points: Hunterstown, at the Straban township election house with E. L. Golden, board member, in charge; McSherrystown firemen's hall with J. Francis Yake, Esq., government appeal agent for the board in charge; York Springs high school with Mrs. Grace I. Butt, board office employee, in charge; Hampton school building with P. Lawrence Hoover, a member of the draft board, in charge; Littlestown fire engine house with William J. Yingling, draft board member, in charge; and at the draft board office with Mrs. Laura S. Freed, draft board office secretary, in charge.

In line with a proclamation by Governor James closing the public schools on Registration Day, public school teachers will aid with the registration at all of the registration points. They will be notified of the hours and places at which they are to serve after the next draft board meeting next Monday evening.

Board No. 2 meets Thursday to complete its registration arrangements.

JANUARY TIRE QUOTA IS AMPLE FOR THIS AREA

The January allocation of tires and tubes for Adams county was more than adequate under the restrictions laid down, records of the two district rationing boards showed today. Neither board issued permits up to the amount of its allocation.

The boards today announced lists of names of persons granted auto and truck tires. Today's list for Board No. 1 represents permits issued since the publication of their first list while the list from Board No. 2 covers all permits issued in January.

Board No. 1 (in eastern Adams county) received 46 applications. Ten were disapproved as not coming within the strict eligibility classifications laid down by rationing regulations. Permits were issued for 12 tires and seven tubes for passenger cars and light trucks and 17 tires and eight tubes for trucks and buses. In addition 30 obsolete tires and 12 obsolete tubes were issued and five tires and two tubes for farm tractors. The allocation was 16 tires and 14 tubes for passenger cars and light trucks and 41 tires and 34 tubes for trucks and buses.

Thirteen Rejections
Board No. 2 (in western Adams county and including Gettysburg) received a total of 45 applications of which 13 were rejected as ineligible. The board issued permits for 16 tires and 10 tubes for passenger cars and light trucks and 22 tires and 14 tubes for heavy trucks and buses. The same board issued permits for 12 tires and seven tubes of obsolete make. The board allocation was 17 tires and 14 tubes for passenger cars and light trucks and 42 tires and 35 tubes for trucks and buses.

Unused parts of the January allocation cannot be carried over into February, the board members stated.

The boards have been ordered to issue separate certificates for tires and tubes going to a single applicant in February. Another recent order received by the tire boards rescinds a previous announcement that passenger cars and light trucks would not be classed together this month. The cars and light trucks again will be handled in the same classification, it was stated. Board members again requested that more

OFFICER TAKES ARMY COURSE

A report from Fort Benning, Georgia, states that Lieutenant Jacob M. Sheads, North Stratton street, a former history teacher at the Gettysburg high school, is now assigned to the infantry school there. He has enrolled for the Company Officers' course, an intense instructional period intended to train men thoroughly in the varied duties of an infantry officer.

The students fire all infantry weapons. They lead troops in actual problems in the field, and they watch demonstrations of proper technique of battle by picked and specially trained men. And in addition they are taught many other important military subjects. They have a full day's program throughout the entire period of their course and must study many hours during the evenings.

Despite the rigid schedule, military men consider it a distinct honor to be selected to attend courses at this distinguished Army school. First established in 1919, the Infantry School has been improved steadily until it reached its present enviable status in the United States military plans.

Troops Mopping Up Remnants Of Invaders On Coast

Washington, Feb. 4 (AP)—A local attack on General Douglas MacArthur's left flank on Batan peninsula the night of February 3 was sharply repulsed, the War department announced today.

A communique also said that a delayed report from the Netherlands Indies disclosed that seven American Army bombers sank two Japanese transports and probably a third in an attack on enemy shipping at Balikpapan on the east coast of Borneo on February 2. The department said this attack was believed to be the same mentioned in a communique issued yesterday by General Sir Archibald Wavell at Batavia.

The text of the communique No. 91 of the war, based on reports received up to 9:30 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, today:

"1. Philippine theater:
"During the night of February 3, elements of the 16th (Kimura) division made a local attack on our left flank in Batan. The attack was sharply repulsed.

Mop Up Remnants
"Our troops continued to mop up tattered remnants of the Japanese who had previously landed on the west coast or who had infiltrated behind our lines. These enemy troops were from the Tatori group and the Kimura division and were found in isolated pockets. No reinforcements were able to reach them. The enemy had attempted to supply them intermittently with food and ammunition dropped by parachute. However, most of these supplies fell into our hands.

"Japanese prisoners of war expressed great surprise at the humane treatment they are receiving at our hands. They said they had been told that we would execute all prisoners.

"On our right there was little activity during the past 24 hours. "Enemy air activity over our lines was limited to a few sporadic bombing attacks which did no damage.

"2. Netherlands Indies:
"A delayed report advises that seven heavy American Army bombers of the flying fortress type attacked Japanese shipping at Balikpapan, Borneo, on February 2. Two enemy transports were sunk and a third, which was hit repeatedly, was probably sunk. All of our planes returned to their base undamaged. It is believed that this attack is the one mentioned in General Wavell's communique of yesterday.

"3. There is nothing to report from other areas."

The capital looked to American air and sea forces today to take an increasingly heavy toll of Japanese expeditions now threatening Java, but any large scale plan to reinforce the southwestern Pacific area was yet to become evident.

RANGOON

Rangoon, Burma, Feb. 3 (Delayed) (AP)—Well-trained Imperial troops hurried into the battle for Burma alongside native battalions skirmished to night with Japanese patrols along 40 miles of the lower Salween river front but a communique made clear that the Japanese thrusts had not taken on the power of a full scale attack.

The communique disclosed that at least in some places along the river north of abandoned Moulmein the British still held outposts east of the deep, wide jungle stream.

One such British force was said to have met a small Japanese advance unit 30 miles north of Moulmein on the east side of the river.

BATAVIA

Batavia, N.E.I., Feb. 4 (AP)—A massive Japanese bombing fleet attempting to smash Soerabaja, the United Nations' chief base of operations in the Dutch East Indies, fell far short of its mark, the Indies High Command announced today, while on the secondary naval base of Ambona Dutch troops still are battling a Japanese landing force.

(The Tokyo radio as heard in Berlin today claimed that Japanese occupation of Ambona, 635 miles north of Australia and flanking the Allied seaborne supply route, had been completed.)

The attack on Soerabaja was carried out yesterday by 70 to 80 Japanese bombers with heavy fighter escort, the Indies command reported, and the raiders inflicted "very considerable" losses on the Dutch interceptor squadrons which took to the air to meet them.

LIBYA

London, Feb. 4 (AP)—British forces have abandoned Derna, falling back 50 miles in two days on their coastal flank in Libya, a British military commentator declared today.

"During the night of February 3, elements of the 16th (Kimura) division made a local attack on our left flank in Batan. The attack was sharply repulsed.

Mop Up Remnants
"Our troops continued to mop up tattered remnants of the Japanese who had previously landed on the west coast or who had infiltrated behind our lines. Draft Board Seeks Data On Delinquent

He is Jack Henry Corritson whose address was York Springs at the time of registration. His last known address was in Seneca Falls, New York.

POWER DRIVES OF RUSSIA TOO MUCH FOR NAZIS

By EDDY GILMORE
Moscow, Feb. 4 (AP)—A fierce renewal of the Russian power drive west of Moscow is hurling reinforced German divisions back upon the key invasion base of Smolensk, 230 miles west of the capital, the government newspaper Izvestia reported today.

It said heavy fighting was in progress in several vital towns in the central sector, where front dispatches reported many villages and towns in Smolensk province already cleared of the invaders.

The powerful Red Army counter-offensive into the Donets basin at the same time was said to be progressing without check, with the Soviet high command's strategy of constant flanking and outflanking maneuvers keeping the German division off balance all along the line.

Russian troops which captured Petrovskoye, a district center 75 miles east of Kharkov, the Russian Pittsburgh, were said to be pursuing the remnants of the 298th and 68th German Infantry divisions southwestward. Mobile units knifing forward south of Kharkov were reported to have swept into Krasnopavlosk, 16 miles north of Lgovaya.

Desperate Stand
A high Russian military authority just returned from the front said that in many sectors the Germans appeared to have reached some sort of fortifications and were throwing fresh reserves of men and machines into a desperate stand, dis-regarding their earlier tactics of withdrawing and at the same time rescuing as much material as possible.

Izvestia proclaimed that "trying to stop the pressure of the Red Army, the enemy is introducing new reserves into the battle and is undertaking counterattacks. Our glorious fighters are repulsing these attacks, causing heavy losses, and are continuing their offensive."

Without geographical details, a midnight communiqué said the Red Army continued its westward movements in most areas of the long winter front and levied a heavy toll of casualties.

SENATOR DAVIS READY TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR

Harrisburg, Feb. 4 (AP)—U. S. Senator James J. Davis says he'll accept the Republican nomination for Governor, if it is tendered him.

The white-haired Senator previously had parried questions on his possible candidacy for the Pennsylvania executive office.

In response to a direct query by Thomas S. Stephenson, of Altoona, president of the Pennsylvania Home Rule association, at the convention of second class township supervisors in Easton yesterday, Davis asserted he "would consider it an honor to accept" the nomination.

Davis said nothing about making a campaign for the post at the May 19 primary, however.

In 3 Cabinets
He said he had served as secretary of Labor under three Presidents—Harding, Coolidge and Hoover—and was now in his third term in the United States Senate. All were the gifts of the Republican party, the former steel puddler asserted.

"Under these circumstances I could not very well refuse to serve," he said. "If the Republican party voters nominate me as their candidate for Governor, I would consider it an honor to accept."

A move was started in Philadelphia on Monday to petition Davis to run for Governor. It was launched by Raymond A. Thistle, former State representative.

POWER DRIVES OF RUSSIA TOO MUCH FOR NAZIS

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Feb. 4 (AP)—A fierce renewal of the Russian power drive west of Moscow is hurling reinforced German divisions back upon the key invasion base of Smolensk, 230 miles west of the capital, the government newspaper Izvestia reported today.

It said heavy fighting was in progress in several vital towns in the central sector, where front dispatches reported many villages and towns in Smolensk province already cleared of the invaders.

The powerful Red Army counter-offensive into the Donets basin at the same time was said to be progressing without check, with the Soviet high command's strategy of constant flanking and outflanking maneuvers keeping the German division off balance all along the line.

Russian troops which captured Petrovskoye, a district center 75 miles east of Kharkov, the Russian Pittsburgh, were said to be pursuing the remnants of the 28th and 68th German Infantry divisions southwestward. Mobile units knifing forward south of Kharkov were reported to have swept into Krasnopavlovsk, 16 miles north of Loozovaya.

Desperate Stand

A high Russian military authority just returned from the front said that in many sectors the Germans appeared to have reached some sort of fortifications and were throwing fresh reserves of men and machines into a desperate stand, discrediting their earlier tactics of withdrawing and at the same time rescuing as much material as possible.

Izvestia proclaimed that "trying to stop the pressure of the Red Army, the enemy is introducing new reserves into the battle and is undertaking counterattacks. Our glorious fighters are repulsing these attacks, causing heavy losses, and are continuing their offensive."

Without geographical details, a midnight communiqué said the Red Army continued its westward movements in most areas of the long winter front and levied a heavy toll of casualties.

SENATOR DAVIS READY TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR

Harrisburg, Feb. 4 (AP)—U. S. Senator James J. Davis says he'll accept the Republican nomination for Governor, if it is tendered him.

The white-haired Senator previously had parried questions on his possible candidacy for the Pennsylvania executive office.

In response to a direct query by Thomas S. Stephenson, of Altoona, president of the Pennsylvania Home Rule association, at the convention of second class township supervisors in Easton yesterday, Davis asserted he "would consider it an honor to accept" the nomination.

Davis said nothing about making a campaign for the post at the May 19 primary, however.

In 3 Cabinets

He said he had served as secretary of Labor under three Presidents—Harding, Coolidge and Hoover—and was now in his third term in the United States Senate. All were the gifts of the Republican party, the former steel puddler asserted.

"Under these circumstances I could not very well refuse to serve," he said. "If the Republican party voters nominate me as their candidate for Governor, I would consider it an honor to accept."

A move was started in Philadelphia on Monday to petition Davis to run for Governor. It was launched by Raymond A. Thistle, former State representative.

MARYLAND "5" HELD TO LONE TWIN POINTER

A hopelessly outclassed Frederick high school basketball team became the fourteenth victim of the undefeated Gettysburg high dribblers Tuesday afternoon in a game played at Frederick, the final score being 46-8.

After the regulars had piled up a 17-0 lead in the first period Coach George Forney sent his reserves against the Marylanders and they continued the brilliant exhibition. So effectively did the Maroon defense function that Frederick was held to but one field goal, a twin-pointer by Liddle in the second period.

Use 12 Players
A total of 12 men were used by Coach Forney and all but one broke into the scoring.

All in the starting team scored one or more field goals in the opening period. At half time the Maroons were out in front 32-5.

Scoring was evenly divided for Gettysburg with Max Sherman nailing out his team-mates with eight points.

SOLDIER CAGERS FRIGHTEN DUKES

Pittsburgh, Feb. 4 (AP)—Proof that Uncle Sam's soldier contingents can collect some formidable athletic opposition for college teams was given here last night when a squad of only seven basketball stars representing the Aberdeen, Maryland, proving grounds held the powerful Duquesne Dukes on equal terms for three periods; then faded in the fourth and lost 46 to 33.

The soldiers, two of whose stars had been detached for assignment to bigger jobs in the far west, led 12-7 at the end of the first period and were even at 21-21 at the half. But when their center, Mark Haller, former Syracuse star was ejected a few seconds after the start of the final period, they faltered, scoring but three points in the final ten minutes.

Bernie Fowle led the triumphant Dukes with 13 points and Haller led the soldiers, who had won 13 straight before coming here, with 11.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Feb. 4 (Wide World)—Inside report is that Billy Conn and Manager Johnny Ray aren't actually near a bust-up as has been rumored but they have been exchanging some pretty hot words about Billy's refusal to train. . . . Conn heads for New York today to start work for Tony Zale. . . . Wire from Tuscaloosa, Alabama, reports Vanderbilt players have been ejected from three of the last six athletic encounters for unnecessary roughness; that Vandy has dropped its foreign language entrance requirements, and asks if the "self-styled Harvard of the south has let its hair down." . . . Nat Fleischer has quit giving his championship belts to fighters for the duration. They're now on the priority list for metals. . . . Two hours after the Major League meetings ended Judge Landis was aboard a train for Florida. . . . Maybe that's why they settled things so quickly.

NOT A RICE HORSE
 Greg Rice, who will be shooting for his 38th consecutive victory in the Millrose track meet Saturday, won't have to worry about the possibility of a blackout during the race. . . . He trains at night on the Columbia University outdoor track, a half block away from the nearest light. . . . Greg probably won't have to worry about the opposition, either.

HOT STOVE WARMUP
 Connie Mack and Gerry Nugent have been conducting surveys around Philadelphia industrial plants to learn when they should start their day-light ball games in order to catch the customers before and after work. . . . Minor league baseballers, who formerly could hardly wait for spring training and free grub, now are complaining because the training season is too long. It will take a lot of them off high-pay defense jobs. . . . Joe McCarthy says he isn't worrying about his night game pitchers but he'd like to know who is his best night-game hitter. . . . Leo Durocher, trapped in a hotel lobby talking to four umpires, explained: "I never gave them any trouble." He was right. All four were American leaguers.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
 Wilton Garrison, Charlotte (N. C.) Observer: "Baseball started with sideburns and mustaches. And when the draft is through we'll be right back where we started."

FUTURE TALK
 Texas apparently is getting set for another big football season. Four stars of the Temple team that went to the State high school championship final in 1941 are due to become Longhorns at mid-term. If they work through the spring and summer sessions they'll be eligible for the varsity next fall. . . . Holy Cross has uncovered a 270-pound sophomore shot putter, Chet Le Komski, who may threaten some of Al Blozis' records in a year or two. He broke the college record with 47 feet 7 inches the other day. . . . Orville Tuttle of the pro Giants is reported headed for the line coaching job at Oklahoma U., with Jap Haskell concentrating on his duties as athletic director. . . . Milwaukee may bust into the National Basketball league next year if an industrial sponsor can be found for a team.

CONFUSION CORNER
 Lawrence Kitchen, Wisconsin basketball, works in the production department of a Lawrence's restaurant. So, naturally, he's Lawrence Kitchen of Lawrence's Kitchen. . . . And Left Hand is the name of a player with the Lodge Grass Indians' court team out in Montana. Reports say he's a deadly one-hand shooter—with his right hand.

Did You Say Pearl Harbor?

Washington, Feb. 4 (AP)—The 100,000th volunteer to join the Navy since the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor December 7 enlisted yesterday. "This spontaneous rush of young Americans to volunteer for the Navy," Rear Admiral Randall Jacobs, chief of the bureau of navigation, said, "is an indication of the patriotic spirit in the hearts of the people of this country."

Despite the flow of volunteers, the Navy planned to continue recruiting without any curtailment and the department explained that there is great need for man power to round out the 500,000-man Navy authorized by Congress. The plan, it was said, is to raise the remainder of this force on a strictly volunteer basis.

Navy officials renewed their advice to recruits to retain their jobs or continue in school until they are actually ordered to duty for training.

Bison Seek Revenge Here

Bucknell's Thundering Herd will invade the Gettysburg college gymnasium tonight for an Eastern Pennsylvania college league basketball game with the Bullets.

The Bullets hope to avenge a defeat handed them by the Bullets at Lewisburg earlier in the season and are relying heavily on their ace forward, Haines, to provide the spark.

At 7 o'clock the Littlestown Independents will meet the college freshmen.

Gettysburg High Quintet Trounces Frederick 46-8; Bucknell Here Tonight

MARYLAND "5" HELD TO LONE TWIN POINTER

A hopelessly outclassed Frederick high school basketball team became the fourteenth victim of the undefeated Gettysburg high dribblers Tuesday afternoon in a game played at Frederick, the final score being 46-8.

After the regulars had piled up a 17-0 lead in the first period Coach George Forney sent his reserves against the Marylanders and they continued the brilliant exhibition. Effectively did the Maroon defense function that Frederick was held to but one field goal, a twin-pointer by Lidie in the second period.

Use 12 Players
A total of 12 men were used by Coach Forney and all but one broke into the scoring.

All in the starting team scored one or more field goals in the opening period. At half time the Maroons were out in front 32-5.

Scoring was evenly divided for Gettysburg with Max Sherman nosing out his team-mates with eight points.

SOLDIER CAGERS FRIGHTEN DUKES

Pittsburg, Feb. 4 (AP)—Proof that Uncle Sam's soldier contingents can collect some formidable athletic opposition for college teams was given here last night when a squad of only seven basketball stars representing the Aberdeen, Maryland, proving grounds held the powerful Duquesne Dukes on equal terms for three periods; then faded in the fourth and lost 46 to 33.

The soldiers, two of whose stars had been detached for assignment to bigger jobs in the far west, led 12-7 at the end of the first period and were even at 21-21 at the half.

But when their center, Mark Haller, former Syracuse star was ejected a few seconds after the start of the final period, they faltered, scoring but three points in the final ten minutes.

Bernie Fowle led the triumphant Dukes with 13 points and Haller led the soldiers, who had won 13 straight before coming here, with 11.

Tony Zale Eligible For Army Induction

Gary, Ind., Feb. 4 (AP)—Tony Zale, given a deferred classification in July because he was 28 years old, will become eligible for Army induction late this month, a member of his draft board said today.

Friends of the middleweight champion indicated, however, Zale might enlist in the Navy after his 12-round overweight match with Billy Conn Feb. 13 in New York.

GIRL REVEALS DEVOTED WORK OF NAZI SPIES

New York, Feb. 4 (AP)—A story of a ring of Nazi spies recruited in New York and so devoted to their work they spent even their leisure hours visiting Long Island flying fields and airplane factories was on Federal Court record today.

It came from Lucy Boehmler, a trim, 18-year-old German-born blonde, who was the government's first major witness as New York's second spy trial in six months began yesterday with six men and a woman charged with espionage.

Thirty-three men and women were sentenced to prison Jan. 2 after conviction as spies in the first trial.

Miss Boehmler, who pleaded guilty to an indictment returned Sept. 4 and is named in the present trial indictment only as a co-conspirator, testified that on one occasion she and some of the defendants toured Roosevelt and Mitchell Fields and the Grumman and Brewster plane factories, "where we walked around and counted planes."

One Is Killed
With her at the time, she said, were Kurt Frederick Ludwig, 38-year-old American-born son of German parents, who the government charges was the ringleader; Mrs. Helen Pauline Mayer, 26, another defendant; her husband, Walter Mayer, now in Germany; and Ulrich von der Osten.

U. S. Attorney Mathias P. Correa disclosed as the trial opened that Von der Osten, whom he identified as a Gestapo agent traveling on a fake Spanish passport under the name of Lopez, was killed here last March by a taxicab.

Correa said that when Von der Osten was struck by the cab in Times Square, Ludwig, who was with him, grabbed the victim's brief case and disappeared.

Rutgers Mentor May Join Service

New Brunswick, N. J., Feb. 4 (AP)—Harvey Harman, head football coach at Rutgers university, and three members of his gridiron staff today offered their services to the Navy as physical instructors in the Navy's recently announced aviation program.

The action brought an expression from George E. Little, athletics director, "we're to lose Coach Harman tomorrow we would certainly hope that it didn't terminate his football service to Rutgers."

CALLING ALL STAMP COLLECTORS

A reader of a New York newspaper—not a stamp collector himself—wrote to the editor suggesting that stamp collectors add a set of U.S. Defense Stamps to their collections as a patriotic act, as well as having in their collections a set of beautiful stamps to remind them of a part played by them in the defense of their country.

I thought as I read that item that it was a good idea, as I had already added this set to my collection. There are nearly 10,000,000 stamp collectors in the United States, I am told, and I don't know how many in Canada. But it is easy to figure out what a tremendous help this idea—carried out by a large number of collectors—could be. A set of U.S. Defense Stamps totals $6.85—certainly a small sum to present to one's government to protect Freedom in the world! In Canada there is but one stamp issued—a 25 cent one. A block of them added to a collection would go far, if taken up on a large scale.

Canadian collectors cannot send money into the United States for stamps, but Canadian collectors can add their own saving stamps to their collections.

The time will come when these Defense and Saving stamps in a stamp collector's books will be pointed to with pride, as a contribution to freedom and liberty and to the preservation of all that the Allied Nations now are striving to achieve.

These stamps are not only beautiful, and make an important addition to one's collection, but they represent a contribution to the Canadian and American All-out campaign for final and complete Victory.

One can always take pride in doing a service that one has not been asked to perform. The voluntary setting aside of Defense and Saving stamps as a record of one's gift to his country can only be measured in terms of personal happiness. It will be a big help toward keeping 'em Rolling, and keeping 'em Flying!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Power of Beauty."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Von Bernstorff Dismissed and Gerard Ordered to Return Home (Special to the Times) Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—President Wilson this afternoon ordered that Ambassador von Bernstorff be given his passports and at the same time directed that Ambassador Gerard be ordered home from Berlin.

Friendly relations with Germany are thereby definitely ended. Whether or not this will result in a declaration of war remains to be seen.

Hoffman—Wenschoff: Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Ruth Wenschoff and George Hoffman, both of near Greenmount, on December 6th by Rev. P. T. E. Stockliager, at Mt. Joy.

Goes with Railroad: Ray Williams, of Hanover street, has accepted a position as rodmann with the engineering corps of the Pennsylvania Railroad and will be assigned to the Pittsburgh division. He has already entered upon his duties.

Get License: A marriage license was issued in Hagerstown on Tuesday to Charles D. Ecker and Miss Viola Walters, both of Biglerville.

Marsden—Thomas: Arthur Null Marsden, of Martinsburg, and Anna Mary Thomas, of Altoona, formerly of Gettysburg, were married Tuesday, January 16th, at Sacred Heart Rectory by Rev. Fr. Smith. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Thomas. They will reside at Martinsburg. Mr. Marsden is employed as a mechanic in Juniata.

Farm Sold: The real estate of Guy H. Plank, Cumberland township, was sold on Saturday at the Court House to J. D. Keith, Esq., for $730.

Test Guides for Several Hours: For several hours on Monday morning the big map room in the Federal Building was given the atmosphere of a village school when a number of the applicants for licensure as battlefield guides appeared for their tests. W. C. Sterrick was in charge.

Wedding: The marriage of Henry Deardorff, a well known farmer of Menallen township, and Mrs. Annie C. (Orner) Yeatts, of Bendersville, took place in Bendersville on Sunday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Dougherty.

Big Leak Here: Several thousand barrels of crude oil were lost Tuesday and Wednesday from the line of the Pure Oil Company on the Jacob A. Appier farm in Mount Joy township.

The oil spouted fifty feet in the air opening a hole in the frozen ground several feet in diameter. For an hour or more the oil flowed out and into the run at Two Taverns, thence to White Run and then on to Rock Creek.

Ground over which the oil flows is usually unproductive for years.

KNITTING DUTY
My lady knitted once again
The warm, wool socks for soldier men.
Her needles and her fingers, too,
Are busy all the long day through
And I've a task of lesser kind,
Which is to hold the wool to wind.

Time was when younger, both were we
She knitted thus for soldiery;
The sock, the sweater and the cap
For many a gallant fighting chap.
And then, to patient toil resigned,
I sat and held her wool to wind.

That time—'twas twenty years ago—
We said: "No more of war we'll know!
No more will women fill their laps
With knitting stuff for soldier chaps.
No more will husbands, sleep inclined,
Sit up and hold the wool to wind."

Now there she sits, her tresses gray,
Knitting for soldiers night and day
And war is here, and none can see Again when peace on earth shall be.

And here am I, my hands entwined
With knitting wool she has to wind.
During the present crisis. The port will be open during the day.

Mr. Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port, who has full authority to act upon his own initiative in case of emergency, locked the harbor gates tight at night.

Hurriedly Call Town Plumbers:
Gettysburg's plumbers had a busy time of it today. The unwary were caught with frozen pipes and from every street in town came calls for help.

This morning was the coldest of the winter. Thermometers registered about the zero mark, and below, in exposed portions.

Theatre Sold: Richard H. Humphries, of Philadelphia, but for the past few months a resident of this place, has purchased the good will and fixtures of Walter's Theatre from Norton C. Miller, proprietor since 1914. Possession is given immediately. Mr. and Mrs. Humphries during their residence here, have been living at the Lincoln Way Hotel.

Personal: Mrs. Frank Cramer, of Hanover, is visiting relatives in town for several days.

Mrs. Arthur Rice, of Biglerville, entertained the Thursday afternoon bridge club at her home on Thursday afternoon. Among those who attended from Gettysburg were the following: Mrs. Charles H. Huber, Mrs. W. C. Sheely, Mrs. J. D. Keen, Mrs. S. F. Lehman, Mrs. Wing, Mrs. S. S. Neely, Mrs. N. S. Houdel, Mrs. Paul Martin, Miss Rachel Granville and Miss Annie O'Neal.

Robert McClean, formerly of Gettysburg, has been advanced from the position of circulation manager to that of business manager of the "New York Post."

John Page, of Chambersburg street, has gone to Detroit, Michigan, to spend some time.

Reapportionment Plan Must Be Placed In Writing

ELECTION OF CONGRESSMEN IS BIG ISSUE

Harrisburg, Feb. 4 (AP)—A special committee of five senators and five representatives, was called together today to put in writing a bipartisan plan for reducing the state's congressional districts from 34 to 33, required after the 1940 census.

The request for a detailed version of the settlement, reached by the committee after months of debate, came from Governor James. The Executive said he would not call a special session of the Legislature unless the plan was unfolded and assurance given that it could pass both Houses in time for the May 19 primary.

The plan was for each party to drop a district, leaving a member to be elected at large.

James said if agreement was made in advance, the Legislature could enact a reapportionment bill in five days, which would make it possible for him to summon the assembly February 21 and get a bill on his desk for signature before the secretary of the commonwealth is required to make up forms for the primary.

If no bill is enacted before the political campaign starts all 33 congressmen must be elected at large this year. Leaders of both parties have publicly said this would be cumbersome and unfair but privately have expressed confidence they could win all 33 seats, if it came to that.

Congressional reapportionment was one of the "must" pieces of legislation in the regular session last year. The deliberations lasted nearly seven months, but adjournment was taken in hopeless deadlock over re-districting the state.

Each Have Plan
As a last resort, the ten-man committee was created, with Rep. Leo A. Acherman of Monroe, Democratic floor leader in the House, and Senator M. Harvey Taylor, Dauphin Republican, as co-chairmen.

Spurred by the Japanese assault on Pearl Harbor, the committee decided, minor differences could be overcome, and on December 9 announced a plan had been agreed upon.

The Republican committee members decided to do away with the present 16th district, re-shuffling northern tier counties to absorb it. Present congressmen from the 15th and 16th districts would decide which should aspire for reelection in the home district, and the other would run at large.

Democrats, over the objection of National Committeeman David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh, agreed to drop a western district, reportedly the 33rd which takes in part of Allegheny. There is a vacancy in that district now, created by resignation of Joseph A. McArdle, elected to Pittsburgh city council in November.

DETECTIVE DETECTED
Chicago (AP)—Charles McCormick Wilson, director of the Police Scientific Crime Detection laboratory, spent an entire evening laboriously boring holes into chocolate in which he concealed medicine his 4-year-old son, Mike, had refused to take.

Given the chocolates the next day, Mike, studying them coldly, said: "Just give me the pills. I don't like chocolate."

1,400 GERMAN FIGHTERS ARE KILLED BY REDS

Moscow, Feb. 4 (AP)—Russian forces pursuing their winter drive through snow and against stiffening German resistance were reported today to have killed some 1,400 Germans in different sectors of the front and thrown back Nazi counterattacks launched in a vain effort to stem a steady retreat.

The Moscow radio said 1,000 Germans were killed when an important inhabited locality, identified only as "V," was recaptured by the Russians. Death of 200 German officers and men in each of two sectors, one southwest and one south of Moscow, also was reported.

Repulse of German counterattacks in some sectors was announced by the Soviet information bureau.

Loss Men Equipment
Adolf Hitler's forces "suffered big losses in manpower and equipment" through land operations and further reverses both in the air and at sea, a communique said.

No details were given but a later communique reported some 200 German officers and men were killed by Russian units pursuing the remnants of two divisions fleeing from recaptured Sukhinichi.

Sukhinichi, nearly 150 miles air-line southwest of Moscow, was announced last Friday to have been recaptured by forces seeking to drive a spearhead toward Smolensk (Jackques Doriot, a leader of French volunteers in the German Army, said in a Paris address that rain and mud had crippled the invasion machine even before 43-below-zero weather arrived.

"At those temperatures everything changes," Doriot said. "Men lose part of their faculties; their fingers become swollen, and their joints become stiff with ankylosis."

The Russians acknowledged that one of their hard-won Crimean beachheads had been abandoned when "some days ago, our troops withdrew from Feodosiya."

The Germans said they recaptured that Black sea port on the Crimea's panhandle Jan. 19.

In the Barents sea our warships sank three enemy transports with a total displacement of 8,000 tons," the communique said.

Aerial warfare for the week ended Jan. 31 was reported to have cost the Germans 160 planes, against a Russian loss of 39.

Moreover, Tass said trainloads of Donets basin coal were moving to factories in the Moscow region again over an entire railway line reopened by Soviet armies.

CONTEST WILL
Pittsburgh, Feb. 4 (AP)—A suit contesting the will of his father, John J. Marnaux, awning manufacturer who died January 27 in Florida, was begun here by Al Marnaux, former Major league pitcher, who now is coach at Seton Hill college, East Orange, New Jersey.

Marnaux said he acted for his mother, Julia, who was divorced by his father 25 years ago. His mother, his brother and himself were cut off in the present will, Marnaux said.

Button Busters
Tulsa, Okla., Feb. 4 (AP)—The fathers of the nation's fighting men now can bust a button bragging about their sons for two minutes flat without fear of interruption from other proud papas.

They can, that is, if they are members of the Button Busters of America, founded today by Roland (Dick) Broach, veteran of the last war, whose son, Roland, Jr., is in the Army now.

The new organization's constitution asserts a belief in the fundamental right of any American father to brag about his son in the armed services in the same manner in which he bragged on him as a baby.

The organization's insignia is a missing top vest button. Should the war effort gobble up men's vests, a vest button will be the badge.

Under the by-laws a boastful "bozo" member may brag about his son, his son's outfit or branch of the service up to such exaggeration that falls short of outright lying. But after two minutes of bragging the member may be interrupted by another proud father who after two minutes may, etc., etc. Time consumed in displaying pictures or letters is exempt from the two-minute limit.

Those who leap from normal parental exaggeration to downright falsehood, and those who compare unfavorably the outfits of this war to their own in the last one, must purchase a 25-cent defense stamp as penalty.

As for the organization's nickname, Remember-Carl Sandburg's story of how bozo the button buster busted all his buttons?

Good Weight Gain
The eight Adams county calves which were exhibited at Harrisburg weighed an average of 1,145 pounds at the time of the Farm Show. These eight calves made an average daily gain of 1.78 pounds per day which considering the length of the feeding period of 398 days was very good.

A summary of 1941 Adams county baby beef club records shows that whereas three of the 30 members showed a loss, the average profit per member was $14.09.

The Adams county club members did a very good job in fitting and showing their calves at Harrisburg and the various local leaders deserve a lot of credit for the good showing of the Adams county members, County Agent M. T. Hartman said today.

King George Hails Troops In Ireland
Belfast, Northern Ireland, Feb. 4 (AP)—King George VI, in a written message opening a new session of the Parliament of northern Ireland, declared Tuesday the recent arrival of American troops in the British Isles was "a demonstration of the unity of purpose" existing between Britain and the United States.

"I am confident that the result will be a further strengthening of those ties of kinship and those common ideals which mean so much for the future of the world," said the message, read to Parliament by the Duke of Abercorn, governor of northern Ireland.

'41 BEEF CLUB MEMBERS MADE GOOD SHOWING

Members of the three 4-H Baby Beef clubs of Adams county in 1941, who disposed of their purebred Hereford calves in December at Lancaster and last month at the Farm Show in Harrisburg made an average profit of $14.09 per calf. The average daily weight gain for the eight best steers among the 30 fed was nearly two pounds per day, according to statistics released today by the office of the county farm agent.

Eight club members exhibited their Hereford calves at the 1942 Farm Products Show. They were shown in competition with a total of 98 baby beef calves from all over the state. Sixty of these were Herefords, and 38 were Angus. These 98 calves represented the best 25 per cent of all the calves on feed by baby beef club members in the state.

Billy Wilson First
Billy Wilson of Biglerville with his 1,240-pound Hereford calf won first prize in the heavyweight Hereford division. His calf was the second heaviest calf in the show. The heaviest calf was also an Adams county club member's, Kenneth Hostetter, of McSherrystown, showed a calf weighing 1,280. He won 12th prize in the heavyweight Hereford class.

Joan Enck, of Biglerville, had the second prize heavyweight Hereford. Her calf weighed 1,205. Thomas Murren, Hanover No. 4, with a calf weighing 1,210 placed sixth in the heavyweight class. Ray Reinacker, Evelyn Hikes, Ethel Masemer, all of the York Springs club won 12th, 14th and 17th prize ribbons, respectively, in the middleweight Hereford class. Paul Lerew, also of the York Springs club, placed 15th in the lightweight class with a well-finished calf weighing 965 pounds.

Sold for $14.64 Average
The eight Adams county calves were sold on Friday, January 23, along with the other 4-H club members' calves. The average price received by the Adams county members was $14.64 per hundredweight. This is $1.15 a hundred better than the average of the Adams county calves which were sold at Lancaster on December 12, 1941.

The grand champion of the show was shown by Paul Corman of Cumberland county, and was sold to Kuglers restaurant, Philadelphia, for fifty cents a pound. The reserve champion brought twenty cents a pound, and was purchased by the Harrisburg hotel. This calf was shown by Warren Schwartz of Northampton county.

The highest priced Adams county calf was that of Billy Wilson. It brought $15.25 and was purchased by the Armstrong Cork Company, Lancaster.

SOMETHING ALL CAN DO

EGG AND MILK PRODUCTION AT NEW HIGH MARK

Harrisburg, Feb. 4 (AP)—Production of eggs and milk is hitting new highs in Pennsylvania in compliance with urgent requests for greatly increased quantities to meet demands of the defense program, State Agriculture Secretary John H. Light reported today.

The average rate of egg production for December was 35.9 per 100 layers, marking the ninth consecutive month a new record has been established. Eggs per layer jumped to 10.1 compared to 9.7 a year previously.

The number of layers increased from 15,372,000 in 1940 to 15,930,000 with production reaching 161,000,000 a gain of 12,000,000. Average price per dozen received by the farmer was 36.9 compared with 29.9 a month earlier.

Return Is Favorable
"In spite of increased cost of feed," commented Light, "the return from eggs was more favorable to the farmer in that it required 77 eggs during last December to purchase 100 pounds of feed compared with 82 eggs in that month a year previously."

Milk output averaged 16.8 pounds per cow for herds reported during December, the second consecutive month in which a new high was reached. The October production was 16. The figure for December of 1940 was 16.2.

Creamery butter in November was 1,030,000 pounds, 12 per cent above the similar period of 1940 and 29 per cent higher than the November average for the past few years.

Watch for Disease
Light said feed costs climbed between two and three per cent during December but in spite of the increase, dairymen averaged 7.4 pounds of grain and concentrates fed per cow in the herd, which was one of the highest figures in the 11 years of record.

Coincident with the increased egg production report came a warning from the Bureau of Animal Industry that extra precautions should be taken by poultrymen against disease, particularly during the war emergency. The bureau pointed out that

SIX YEAR OLD GIRL IS SLAIN

San Bernardino, Calif., Feb. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Lillian Bell, frail and dark-haired, looked with bitter longing at a picture of her six-year-old daughter, Shirley Marie, clad in a gay plaid suit and jaunty hat, and cried:

"Shirley was so gay, so sweet, so loving... and too trusting."

Too trusting... Shirley accepted a bicycle ride from a stranger as she started for school Monday... twenty-four hours later searchers discovered her ravaged body... partially buried in wild and bushy Lytle creek wash... she had been strangled with her jumping rope... footprints indicated she had fought her assailant.

County Autopsy Surgeon F. S. Small said Shirley had been assaulted.

Officials questioned several men in their search for the killer, described as about 30 years old, dark and bareheaded. Neither a rancher nor a playmate who saw Shirley riding on the handlebars of a stranger's bicycle could add much to that description.

Robert Bell, Shirley's father, swore "if I ever get my hands on that murderer, there will never be a trial." Shirley was the Bell's only child.

Three Burned To Death In Jail Fire

San Diego, Calif., Feb. 4 (AP)—Three men burned to death and nine were injured as fire damaged the city jail before dawn today. Flames started in the walls of the padded cell block.

Firemen used gas masks to rescue the injured, who were transferred to hospitals. Names were not quickly available. Cause of the fire was not determined.

False reports that some of the 26 alien Japanese taken in custody yesterday had escaped spread quickly. The Japanese, however, were in the county jail.

poultry suffered greatest losses from disease than any other domesticated animals, the average annual mortality in flocks being 25 per cent.

(Special to the Times) Washington, D. C., Feb. 3—President Wilson this afternoon ordered that Ambassador von Bernstorff be given his pas-ports and at the same time directed that Ambassador Gerard be ordered home from Berlin.

Friendly relations with Germany are thereby definitely ended. Whether or not this will result in a declaration of war remains to be seen.

CALLING ALL STAMP COLLECTORS

A reader of a New York newspaper —not a stamp collector himself—wrote to the editor suggesting that stamp collectors add a set of U.S.
Defense Stamps to their collections as a patriotic act, as well as having in their collections a set of beautiful stamps to remind them of a part played by them in the defense of their country.

I thought as I read that item that it was a good idea, as I had already added this set to my collection.
There are nearly 10,000,000 stamp collectors in the United States. I am told, and I don't know how many in Canada. But it is easy to figure out what a tremendous help this idea—carried out by a large number of collectors—could be. A set of U.S. Defense Stamps totals $6.85—certainly a small sum to present to one's government to protect Freedom in the world! In Canada there is but one stamp issued—a 25 cent one.
A block of them added to a collection would go far, if taken up on a large scale.

Canadian collectors cannot send money into the United States for stamps, but Canadian collectors can add their own saving stamps to their collections.

The time will come when these Defense and Saving stamps in a stamp collector's books will be pointed to with pride, as a contribution to freedom and liberty and to the preservation of all that the Allied Nations now are striving to achieve.

These stamps are not only beautiful, and make an important addition to one's collection, but they represent a contribution to the Canadian and American All-out campaign for final and complete Victory.

One can always take pride in doing a service that one has not been asked to perform. The voluntary setting aside of Defense and Saving stamps as a record of one's gift to his country can only be measured in terms of personal happiness. It will be a big help toward Keeping 'em Rolling, and Keeping 'em Flying!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Power of Beauty."

KNITTING DUTY
My lady knitted once again
The warm, wool socks for soldier men.

Her needles and her fingers, too,
Are busy all the long day through
And I've a task of lesser kind
Which is to hold the wool to wind.

Time was when younger both were we

She knitted thus for soldiery;
The sock, the sweater and the cap
For many a gallant fighting chap.
And then, to patient toil resigned,
I sat and held her wool to wind.

That time—"twas twenty years ago—
We said: "No more of war we'll know!"

No more will women fill their laps
With knitting stuff for soldier chaps.
No more will husbands, sleep inclined,
Sit up and hold the wool to wind."

Now there she sits, her tresses gray,
Knitting for soldiers night and day
And war is here, and none can see Again when peace on earth shall be.

And here am I, my hands entwined
With knitting wool she has to wind, during the present crisis. The port will be open during the day.

Mr. Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port, who has full authority to act upon his own initiative in case of emergency, locked the harbor gates tight at night.

Hurriedly Call Town Plumbers:
Gettysburg's plumbers had a busy time of it today. The unwary were caught with frozen pipes and from every street in town came calls for help.

This morning was the coldest of the winter. Thermometers registered about the zero mark, and below, in exposed portions.

Theatre Sold: Richard H. Humphries, of Philadelphia, but for the past few months a resident of this place, has purchased the good will and fixtures of Walter's Theatre from Norton C. Miller, proprietor since 1914. Possession is given immediately. Mr. and Mrs. Humphries during their residence here, have been living at the Lincoln Way Hotel.

Personal: Mrs. Frank Cramer, of Hanover, is visiting relatives in town for several days.

Mrs. Arthur Rice, of Biglerville, entertained the Thursday afternoon bridge club at her home on Thursday afternoon. Among those who attended from Gettysburg were the following: Mrs. Charles H. Huber, Mrs. W. C. Sheely, Mrs. J. D. Keith,
Mrs. S. F. Lehman, Mrs. Wing, Mrs.
S. S. Neely, Mrs. N. S. Heindel, Mrs.
Paul Martin, Miss Rachel Granville, and Miss Annie O'Neal.

Robert McClean, formerly of Gettysburg, has been advanced from the position of circulation manager to that of business manager of the "New York Post."

John Pape, of Chambersburg street, has gone to Detroit, Michigan, to spend some time.

Reapportionment Plan Must Be Placed In Writing

ELECTION OF CONGRESSMEN IS BIG ISSUE

Harrisburg, Feb. 4 (AP)—A special committee of five senators and five representatives, was called together today to put in writing a bipartisan plan for reducing the state's congressional districts from 34 to 33, required after the 1940 census.

The request for a detailed version of the settlement, reached by the committee after months of debate, came from Governor James. The Executive said he would not call a special session of the Legislature unless the plan were unfolded and assurance given that it could pass both Houses in time for the May 19 primary.

The plan was for each party to drop a district, leaving a member to be elected at large.

Easy to Get Bill
James said if agreement was made in advance, the Legislature could enact a reapportionment bill in five days, which would make it possible for him to summon the assembly February 21 and get a bill on his desk for signature before the secretary of the commonwealth is required to make up forms for the primary.

If no bill is enacted before the political campaign starts all 33 congressmen must be elected at large this year. Leaders of both parties have publicly said this would be cumbersome and unfair but privately have expressed confidence they could win all 33 seats, if it came to that.

Congressional reapportionment was one of the "must" pieces of legislation in the regular session last year.
The deliberations lasted nearly seven months, but adjournment was taken in hopeless deadlock over re-districting the state.

Each Have Plan

As a last resort, the ten-man committee was created, with Rep.
Leo A. Acherman of Monroe, Democratic floor leader in the House, and Senator M. Harvey Taylor, Dauphin Republican, as co-chairman.

Spurred by the Japanese assault on Pearl Harbor, the committee decided minor differences could be overcome, and on December 9 announced a plan had been agreed upon.

The Republican committee members decided to do away with the present 16th district, re-shuffling northern tier counties to absorb it.
Present congressmen from the 15th and 16th districts would decide which should aspire for reelection in the home district, and the other would run at large.

Democrats, over the objection of National Committeeman David L.
Lawrence of Pittsburgh, agreed to drop a western district, reportedly the 33rd which takes in part of Allegheny. There is a vacancy in that district now, created by resignation of Joseph A. McArdle, elected to Pittsburgh city council in November.

LOSSES ON STOCK TRANSACTIONS

No gain or loss is recognized for income tax purposes as a result of the exchange of stock or securities in a corporation solely for stock or securities in another corporation in pursuance of a plan of reorganization to which both corporations are parties or as a result of the exchange of stock or securities in a corporation solely for stock or securities in the same corporation in connection with a recapitalization.
Where money or other property is received along with such exchanges, taxable gain may result, but no loss is recognized. The statute also prohibits the deduction for any loss from the sale or other disposition of stock or securities where the taxpayer, within a period of 30 days before or after the date of sale or other disposition, acquires or enters into a contract or option to acquire substantially identical stock or securities. However, when the new substantially identical stock or securities are sold, in determining the gain or loss their bases shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, by the difference between the price at which the new stock or securities were acquired and the price at which the old stock or securities were sold.

CONTEST WILL

Pittsburgh, Feb. 4 (AP)—A suit contesting the will of his father, John J. Manna, awning manufacturer who died January 27 in Florida, was begun here by Al Mannaux, former Major league pitcher, who now is coach at Seton Hill college, East Orange, New Jersey. Mannaux said he acted for his mother, Julia, who was divorced by his father 25 years ago. His mother, his brother and himself were cut off in the present will, Mannaux said.

While Mark's machine stood dis-crashed into it.

The fourth motorist was arrested for reckless driving, but Mark,

DETECTIVE DETECTED

Chicago (AP)—Charles McCormick Wilson, director of the Police Scientific Crime Detection laboratory, spent an entire evening laboriously boring holes into chocolates in which he concealed medicine his 4-year-old son, Mike, had refused to take.

Given the chocolates the next day, Mike, studying them coldly, said: "Just give me the pills. I don't like chocolate."

ing, the child looked up and asked:
"Did anybody take this up with

1,400 GERMAN FIGHTERS ARE KILLED BY REDS

Moscow, Feb. 4 (AP)—Russian forces pursuing their winter drive through snow and against stiffen-ing German resistance were reported today to have killed some 1,400 Germans in different sectors of the front and thrown back Nazi counter-attacks launched in a vain effort to stem a steady retreat.

The Moscow radio said 1,000 Germans were killed when an important inhabited locality, identified only as "V," was recaptured by the Russians. Death of 200 German officers and men in each of two sectors, one southwest and one south of Moscow, also was reported.

Repulse of German counterattacks in some sectors was announced by the Soviet information bureau.

Loss Men, Equipment

Adolf Hitler's forces "suffered big losses in manpower and equipment" through land operations and further reverses both in the air and at sea, a communique said.

No details were given but a later communique reported some 200 German officers and men were killed by Russian units pursuing the remnants of two divisions fleeing from recaptured Sukhinichi.

Sukhinichi, nearly 150 miles airline southwest of Moscow, was announced last Friday to have been recaptured by forces seeking to drive a spearhead toward Smolensk.

(Jacques Doriot, a leader of French volunteers in the German Army, said in a Paris address that rain and mud had crippled the invasion machine even before 43-below-zero weather arrived.

"At those temperatures everything changes," Doriot said. "Men lose part of their faculties; their fingers become swollen, and their joints become stiff with ankylosis."

The Russians acknowledged that one of their hard-won Crimean beachheads had been abandoned when "some days ago, our troops withdrew from Feodosiya." (The Germans said they recaptured that Black sea port on the Crimea's panhandle Jan. 19.)

"In the Barents sea our warships sank three enemy transports with a total displacement of 8,000 tons," the communique said.

Aerial warfare for the week ended
Jan. 31 was reported to have cost the Germans 160 planes, against a Russian loss of 39.

Moreover, Tass said trainloads of Donets basin coal were moving to factories in the Moscow region again over an entire railway line reopened by Soviet armies.

'41 BEEF CLUB MEMBERS MADE GOOD SHOWING

Members of the three 4-H Baby Beef clubs of Adams county in 1941, who disposed of their purebred Hereford calves in December at Lancaster and last month at the Farm Show in Harrisburg made an average profit of $14.09 per calf. The average daily weight gain for the eight best steers among the 30 fed was nearly two pounds per day, according to statistics released today by the office of the county farm agent.

Eight club members exhibited their Hereford calves at the 1942 Farm Products Show. They were shown in competition with a total of 98 baby beefes from all over the state.
Sixty of these were Herefords, and 38 were Angus. These 98 calves represented the best 25 per cent of all the calves on feed by baby beef club members in the state.

Billy Wilson First
Billy Wilson of Biglerville with his 1,240-pound Hereford calf won first prize in the heavyweight Hereford division. His calf was the second heaviest calf in the show. The heaviest calf was also an Adams county club member's, Kenneth Hostetter, of McSherrystown, showed a calf weighing 1,280. He won 12th prize in the heavyweight Hereford class.

Joan Enck, of Biglerville, had the second prize heavyweight Hereford.
Her calf weighed 1,205. Thomas Murren, Hanover No. 4, with a calf weighing 1,210 placed sixth in the heavyweight class. Ray Reinecker, Evelyn Hikes, Ethel Masemer, all of the York Springs club won 12th, 14th and 17th prize ribbons, respectively, in the middleweight Hereford class. Paul Lerew, also of the York Springs club, placed 15th in the lightweight class with a well-finished calf weighing 965 pounds.

Sold for $14.64 Average

The eight Adams county calves were sold on Friday, January 23, along with the other 4-H club members' calves. The average price received by the Adams county members was $14.64 per hundredweight.
This is $1.15 a hundred better than the average of the Adams county calves which were sold at Lancaster on December 12, 1941.

The grand champion of the show was shown by Paul Cornman of Cumberland county, and was sold to Kuglers restaurant, Philadelphia, for fifty cents a pound. The reserve champion brought twenty cents a pound, and was purchased by the Harrisburg hotel. This calf was shown by Warren Schwartz of Northampton county.

The highest priced Adams county calf was that of Billy Wilson. It brought $15.25 and was purchased by the Armstrong Cork Company, Lancaster.

Good Weight Gain

The eight Adams county calves which were exhibited at Harrisburg weighed an average of 1,145 pounds at the time of the Farm Show. These eight calves made an average daily gain of 1.78 pounds per day which considering the length of the feeding period of 368 days was very good. A summary of 1941 Adams county baby beef club records shows that whereas three of the 30 members showed a loss, the average profit per member was $14.09.

The Adams county club members did a very good job in fitting and showing their calves at Harrisburg and the various local leaders deserve a lot of credit for the good showing of the Adams county members, County Agent M. T. Hartman said today.

King George Hails Troops In Ireland

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Feb. 4 (AP)—King George VI, in a written message opening a new session of the Parliament of northern Ireland, declared Tuesday the recent arrival of American troops in the British unity of purpose" existing between Britain and the United States.

"I am confident that the result will be a further strengthening of those ties of kinship and those common ideals which mean so much for the future of the world," said
"the message, read to Parliament by

SOMETHING ALL CAN DO

Button Busters

By EDWARD CURTIS

Tulsa, Okla., Feb. 4 (AP)—The fathers of the nation's fighting men now can bust a button bragging about their sons for two minutes flat without fear of interruption from other proud papas.

They can, that is, if they are members of the Button Busters of America, founded today by Roland (Dick) Broach, veteran of the last war, whose son, Roland, Jr., is in the Army now.

The new organization's constitution asserts a belief in the fundamental right of any American fac-ther to brag about his son in the armed services in the same manner in which he bragged on him as a baby.

The organization's insignia is a missing top vest button. Should the war effort gobble up men's vests, a vest button will be the badge.

Under the by laws a boastful
"bozo" member may brag about his son, his son's outfit or branch of service up to such exaggeration that falls short of outright lying. But after two minutes of bragging the member may be interrupted by another proud father who after two minutes may, etc., etc. Time consumed in displaying pictures or letters is exempt from the two-minute limit.

Those who leap from normal parental exaggeration to downright falsehood, and those who compare unfavorably the outfits of this war to their own in the last one, must purchase a 25-cent defense stamp as penalty.

As for the organization's nickname, Remember Carl Sandburg's story of how bozo the button buster busted all his buttons?

Pet Pooch

San Francisco, Feb. 4 (AP)— Poncho, the pet pooch of hundreds of trainmen along the San Francisco-Bakersfield run of the Santa Fe, stands to profit by his waywardness.

The little brown Chesapeake-Irish Water Spaniel disappeared five days ago.

Piggy banks alone the line, usually used to collect nickels and dimes for Poncho's hamburger, began to bulge with a reward for his return.

He was found yesterday over on the state belt line—his first trip there—and is back home now—a lot of hamburger money to the good.

TWO MORE JAP SHIPS SUNK BY U.S. AIRCRAFT

Batavia, N.E.I., Feb. 4 (AP)—A fighter-escorted formation of 26 Japanese bombers raided airports of the Soerabaja naval base and other towns of eastern Java for the first time Tuesday in the wake of a United States aerial attack which sank two or three more invasion transports in Macassar strait.

Two Japanese transports are known to have been destroyed and a third probably was sunk yesterday in the Strait of Balk Papan, Dutch East Indies. In two thrusts by United States aircraft, said a communique transmitted through Batavia from the Allied general headquarters on Java.

It was in the same strait that Dutch and United States air and naval forces had already destructively attacked a huge invasion armada, sinking and damaging a total estimated as high as 46 ships.

Down Nine Planes
Moreover it was said that during the past few days Allied aircraft carrying out reconnaissance on shipping in Macassar strait "have shot down a total of nine enemy aircraft for a loss of one of our own" and Dutch aircraft shot down a hostile machine in another part of the area.

"In addition to these special operations," said the communique, the fourth to be issued from the Java offices of General Sir Archibald P. Wavell, "normal attacks on enemy airdromes and bases have been carried out with satisfactory results over the area between Malaya and the East Celebes."

Dutch observers said the Japanese raids upon the airports of Soerabaja, the largest naval base of all the Netherlands Indies, and other cities might be the prelude to an invasion attempt.

The Japanese already have invested parts of Borneo, 300 miles to the north. Guerrilla warriors were reported to be scoring local successes in the Minahassa zone of the Celebes, killing many of the invaders in continuing operations.

MAY REGISTER BEFORE FEB. 16

Harrisburg, Feb. 4 (AP)—Selective service headquarters today reported many local boards were planning to accept registrations in advance of the February 16 date set to enroll all men between 20 and 44 years of age for military service.

Governor James gave the boards authority to take such action in proclaiming the registration day. Draft officials said some boards had announced they would permit enrollment on Saturday and Sunday prior to the official date.

A state of emergency will be observed in Pennsylvania from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m. for the registration with public schools, taverns and liquor stores ordered closed.

Approximately 750,000 are expected to register. The state enrolled 1,245,000 in the first registration of October, 1940, and 63,000 in July last year. More than 60,000 Pennsylvanians had been inducted into the Army when war was declared.

Those registering previously under the selective service act are not required to enroll again. The group to be registered this time includes those reaching the age of 20 by last December 31, and under 45 on February 16.

National draft headquarters has just announced that thousands of other men from 18 and 19 and 45 to 64 years of age probably will be registered in April or May.

Pennsylvania authorities reported the state's 422 local boards ready for the new registration with many setting up additional places in their areas to take care of the crowds. Registrars serve without pay.

Registrants are not necessarily required to register at any certain place but officials urged that they enroll in their own neighborhood if possible. Cards have to be returned to a registrar's local board if he registers elsewhere.

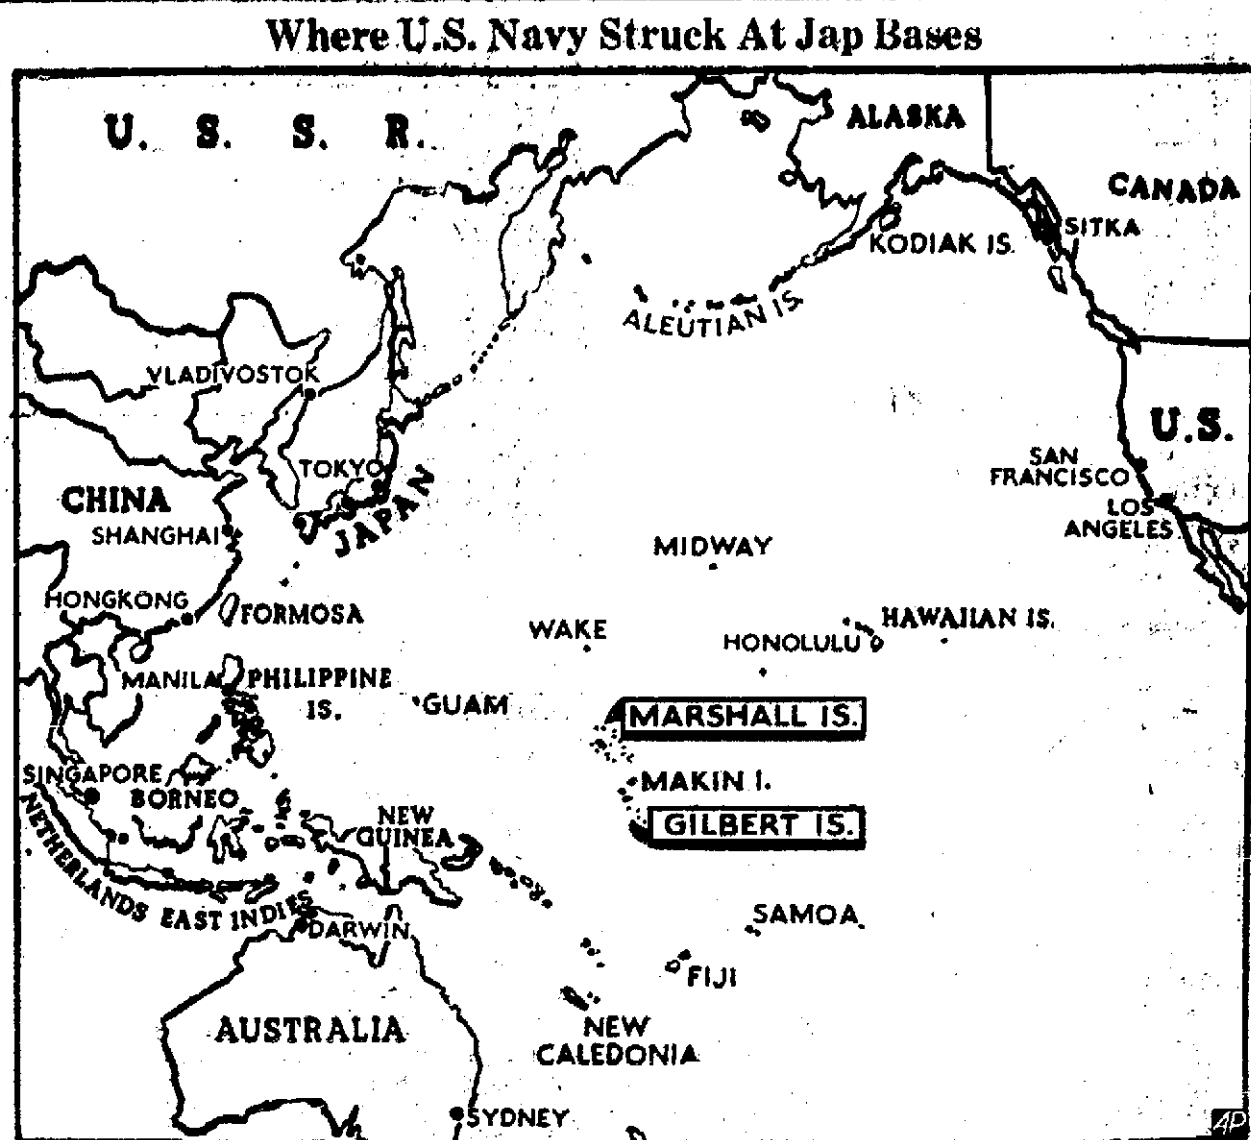

FARM PRICES TO BE SOLID

Washington, Feb. 4 (AP)—The nation's farmers heard straight from headquarters today that the war boom in the market for their products has gone about as far as the Agriculture department and the office of price administration will permit.

Leon Henderson, the Price Administrator, and Secretary of Agriculture Wickard disclosed yesterday they were in "complete agreement" that the cost of living should be stabilized.

The Agriculture department will do its part by using government-owned stocks of grains and cotton "to supplement private stocks" and by keeping feed prices at levels which will encourage production of meat and livestock products.

Farm prices averaged 102 per cent of parity as of January 15, the Agriculture department reported. Some were much higher, some much lower.

NAZIS RESUME EXECUTION OF FRENCH PEOPLE

Vichy, Unoccupied France, Feb. 4 (AP)—German authorities, retaliating for continued outbreaks of violence against Nazi forces in Occupied France, have executed six Parisian youths and ordered deportation to eastern Europe for 100 others described as Communists and Jews.

The retaliatory measures were announced by Lieut. Gen. Ernest Von Schauburg, military commander in Paris, who said that between January 7 and 28 there were six bombings and shootings in which German Army installations or soldiers were the targets.

Another execution by the French for treason also took place at Lyon in Unoccupied France.

French Citizens
All that was known about the execution was that he or she was a French citizen and had been condemned by a military court.

Simultaneously it was learned here that two Belgians, Raymond Soupart and Henri Jouvénis, had been executed at Mons recently on order of a German military court.

Soupart was accused of committing acts of violence against German troops and illegally possessing arms, while Jouvénis was charged with Communist activity.

Von Schauburg said the six youths executed in Paris "had connections" with the parties responsible for the latest acts of violence, but did not say whether the 100 condemned to exile were in any way connected with them.

Mass Executions
A precedent for mass retaliation measures was set by the Germans last October when they ordered the execution of 200 hostages in Nantes and Bordeaux for attacks on German officers. One hundred persons were shot but so much resentment was aroused that 100 of those condemned later were reprieved.

A recurrence of violence in the occupied area, however, prompted the Germans to execute 100 more hostages in Paris in mid-December. The Petain government protested, saying the severe measures had caused "profound uneasiness" among the French people.

RECAPPED TIRES TO BE RATIONED

Washington, Feb. 4 (AP)—Rationing of retreaded tires as well as new tires and tubes may begin this month, it was learned from government sources today.

While spokesmen for the office of price administration, in which is vested all rationing authority, would not comment on the multiplying reports that retread rationing was in the immediate offing, other sources confirmed that only delays in deciding on the final form of the order had deferred its issuance.

There was indication that it might be announced this week, effective next Monday or the Monday following, complete with state and county sales quotas like those fixed January 1 for new tires.

The shortage of "camelback," the crude rubber material from which retreads and "recaps" are made, was emphasized today by an official statement that no camelback would be allotted this month for passenger car tire retreading. The entire monthly allotment—its size was not revealed—will go into military orders and into truck tire retreading deemed necessary to keep industrial and commercial vehicles rolling.

FAMED WOMAN PHYSICIAN DIES

Pittsburgh, Feb. 4 (AP)—Dr. Edith Harris Schrad, 77, one of Pennsylvania's early women physicians who was once invited to be "physician to the empress of China and member of the royal household" died Monday at the home of a daughter in suburban Bellevue.

As a senior student in medicine, Doctor Schrad was invited by Chinese statesmen to become "physician to the empress." Doctor Schrad's daughter, Mrs. Gail B. Chaney, recalled.

But Doctor Schrad's family, residents of Bellefonte, refused to permit her to go to China. Instead, she practiced in Bellefonte where to avoid confusion with another Doctor Harris, she became known as "Doctor Edith," a title she retained through her 32 years of practice, even after her marriage.

Doctor Edith twice was president of the Centre County Medical society, the first woman to hold that position. Her husband, Rudolph Schrad, is dead. In addition to her daughter, she is survived by a son, Frederick Schrad, of Newark, New Jersey.

Public To Share In Morgan Company

New York, Feb. 4 (AP)—The outside world—the public—today for the first time had a chance for a voice in the affairs of J. P. Morgan and Company, Inc.

Just as Wall Street closed up shop yesterday, Smith Barney and Co. brokers, announced they had bought 16,500 shares of the Morgan bank's capital stock—8.25 per cent of the outstanding stock—and would sell them publicly at $206 a share.

Through 80 years of few changes the bank had remained a financial citadel in every sense of the word, with hand-picked partners and officers and only an estimated 80 shareholders since it changed from a partnership to a corporation two years ago.

Predicts Offense On Island Soon

Tokyo (From Japanese Broadcasts) Feb. 4 (AP)—Lieut. Col. Hotta, Japanese military spokesman, said today at a press conference that a Japanese general offensive against Singapore fortress would be launched soon according to careful plans.

He declared it would not take long now to oust the remaining United States forces from Batan peninsula in the Philippines, despite the fact they are occupying favorable positions in rugged mountains and thick forests which make Japanese attack difficult.

Foreign reports that the Japanese are being forced continually to bring up reinforcements for this attack were called "complete nonsense."

MARTIN HOLDS REINS OF GOP

Washington, Feb. 4 (AP)—Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., (R-Mass.) quieted reports of an inter-factional struggle for control of his party's machinery by announcing Tuesday that he intends to retain his post as Republican national chairman until after the November congressional elections.

Martin had said some months ago that he hoped to step down as party chieftain early this year in order to devote all of his time to his duties as minority leader of the house.

"I have decided to stay on as chairman, at least through the November elections," he told reporters. "I think I owe it to the party to stay at least the rest of the year."

Martin's four-year term as chairman normally would end at the next Republican national convention. Some influential Republicans said his decision to stay on the job probably would sidetrack what promised to become a hot fight for control of the party machinery.

Some supporters of Wendell L. Wilkie, the 1940 presidential nominee, had been represented as none too pleased with Martin's recent appointment of Clarence B. Kelland, veteran magazine writer and author, as publicity director for the national committee, feeling that some long-time supporter of Wilkie should have been rewarded instead.

Martin said he planned to call the national committee members together in Chicago, shortly after the April 14 Illinois primary, for a discussion of congressional campaign plans.

TWO MORE JAP SHIPS SUNK BY U.S. AIRCRAFT

Batavia, N.E.I., Feb. 4 (AP)—A fighter-escorted formation of 26 Japanese bombers raided airports of the Soerabaja naval base and other towns of eastern Java for the first time Tuesday in the wake of a United States aerial attack which sank two or three more invasion transports in Macassar strait.

Two Japanese transports are known to have been destroyed and a third probably was sunk yesterday in the Strait of Bali Papan, Dutch East Borneo, in two thrusts by United States aircraft, said a communique transmitted through Batavia from the Allied general headquarters on Java.

It was in the same strait that Dutch and United States air and naval forces had already destructively attacked a huge invasion armada, sinking and damaging a total estimated as high as 46 ships.

Down Nine Planes
Moreover it was said that during the past few days Allied aircraft carrying out reconnaissance on shipping in Macassar strait "have shot down a total of nine enemy aircraft for a loss of one of our own" and Dutch aircraft shot down a hostile machine in another part of the area.

"In addition to these special operations," said the communique, the fourth to be issued from the Java offices of General Sir Archibald P. Wavell, "normal attacks on enemy airdromes and bases have been carried out with satisfactory results over the area between Malaya and the East Celebes."

Dutch observers said the Japanese raids upon the airports of Soerabaja, the largest naval base of all the Netherlands Indies, and other cities might be the prelude to an invasion attempt.

The Japanese already have invested parts of Borneo, 300 miles to the north.
Guerrilla warriors were reported to be scoring local successes in the Minahassa zone of the Celebes, killing many of the invaders in continuing operations.

MAY REGISTER BEFORE FEB. 16

Harrisburg, Feb. 4 (AP)—Selective service headquarters today reported many local boards were planning to accept registrations in advance of the February 16 date set to enroll all men between 20 and 44 years of age for military service.

DANGEROUS BAGGAGE

BY ELEANOR ATTERBURY

YESTERDAY: Sharon has plunged with no warning at all into the midst of a plot that is causing Sierra Steel to lose shipment after shipment to the enemy. She is private secretary to Harvey Goodwin, and he has asked her to help him solve the mystery. Her first assignment is a dinner date with Tom Stafford, whom Goodwin believes is part of the plot. Sharon is sorry, however, that a quarrel with her young and very discontented brother had to come this particular day.

Chapter Six
A Stranger Calls

"Going to a movie," Dennis wrote. "I borrowed a twenty from your grocery money. Pay you back tomorrow. You were in the shower so I couldn't ask. Hope it's okay. Have a good time."

Sharon shook her head. She hadn't been in the shower when that phone call came. And you didn't need twenty dollars to go to a movie. More probably it was a poker game somewhere. Just a "friendly" little game—among people who were anything but friends!

Her thoughts still anxiously pursuing him, she unfasted the square white box, folded back the green tissue. Camellias! Lovely waxy pink blossoms pressed flat against their own polished green leaves. How exquisite!

Her attention caught back, she opened the envelope, read Tom's card.

"Pink Perfection they call these posies. Which fits the bill—you're Perfection and so I'm in the Pink. Eight o'clock seems a long way off. T.S."

Idiot! But, in the watery hall mirror, Sharon caught herself smiling happily. Fingers stumbling, she planned the lovely flowers against the soft grey fur of her cape, and couldn't help loving the effect. He had nice taste, that smarty Tom Stafford, even if he hadn't grown up yet. Of course, she added fairly, not many boys educated in American colleges had the cultured charm Harvey Goodwin had acquired. It wasn't really fair to compare them. Perfect manners, dignity, charm simply wasn't collegiate. Personally, Sharon smiled into the mirror again, she'd take the charming manners.

Promptly at eight, the buzzer rang. Tom, of course. She pressed the door latch. Simultaneously, the phone rang.

"Dennis Doyle there?" A strange voice demanded.

"No. Is there any message?"

"Who's this talking?"

"His sister. Who shall I say called?"

The strange voice didn't answer her. She heard him speak, instead, to someone at his end of the line. "The kid ain't here now. Some dame. Says she's his sister."

Sharon couldn't hear the muttered reply. Then,

"Okay, sister. Tell him Gates wants to see him. He'll know."

"Mr. Gates?"

"Yeah, dearie. Mister Gates."

His laugh made Sharon recoil. "And tell him to make it snappy."

"Very well," Sharon replied, masking the alarm in her voice. "I'll—"

But the strange Mr. Gates had hung up.

Alarmed, Sharon replaced the receiver, stood staring at it helplessly. Who was Mr. Gates and what could he want of Dennis—demand of him, rather, in that rough, threatening manner? A man like that—his voice—his bullying attitude—surely Dennis couldn't—

Tom was tapping a Morse code on the door. Sharon still hesitated. Still, there was nothing she could do now. With Tom waiting, and besides she had no idea where Dennis had gone, when he'd be back.

She snatched up a pencil, scrawled the message. She'd leave it by the phone where Dennis would see it when he came in. If only she could think of someone, some way to send help. Because, some intuition told her, Dennis was in trouble and he would need help and need it desperately.

The music was sweet, the lights were soft, and Tom was smiling at her across the table for two just on the fringe of the crowded dance floor. It had been perfect, the whole evening. Cocktails at smart Four Seventy Seven first. Then dinner here at the Skyway. Sharon sipped her black coffee, accepted the cigarette Tom proffered.

"Having fun?" he asked.

Smiling, she nodded. "Perfect fun." It had been, too. Tom was so genial a host, so quick to laugh, his company was comfortable as an old slipper. Right from the moment she'd opened the door, faced the flattery in his instant admiration, she'd felt her responsibilities slipping like weights from her shoulders. "I don't think I've ever had such a good time."

And suddenly she realized just how absolutely she'd enjoyed the evening, and how completely she'd forgotten her job! She hadn't learned anything about Tom save his preference in music and cocktails and steaks. She'd let the whole evening fill up with silly banter and smooth dancing. And while of course that was a good way to lay the ground work for some future reconnoitering, still she had let a lot of time escape.

She looked across the table at the profile Tom turned toward her as he sat, relaxed, smoking, watching the dancing couples. That man, she reminded herself, was a dangerous agent of a dangerous enemy. His job was to betray, to destroy, to deceive. Mr. Goodwin knew that. And here she sat actually enjoying him as if he were an old friend. No doubt that was exactly as Mr. Tom Stafford had intended it should be, too.

She drew a long breath. How easily, how nearly she'd come to letting herself be fooled too by that deceivingly "open" countenance Tom wore so convincingly.

Tom heard the sigh, turned to her instantly. "Tired?"

"Oh, no," then she remembered. "Yes—a little. It's so crowded here."

Deliriously crowded with San Francisco's smartest people, with excitement, with lovely music. Regretting it, Sharon assumed a bored little smile. "Besides I really must drop in on Mr. Goodwin's housewarming," she added, carefully warming.

Tom's smile disappeared. "That guy again!"

"He asked me to come. He's having a few friends in to see his new penthouse."

"And you really want to go?"

Sharon met his eyes. "I think I should go. I hate to leave you but—" She watched him, held her breath.

"You're not leaving me," he replied, pushing back his chair. "If you must go to anybody's party you're going under my personal supervision."

Sharon could breathe again. That had been almost too easy. "I was hoping you'd say that. I'd rather dreaded going alone."

Tom looked at her sharply and for a minute she thought she had gone too far. Then,

"Don't give me that, my sweet," he said, laughing. "You're not pulling any wool over anybody's eyes!"

For anxious moments, Sharon tried hard to decide whether he was just teasing her about Mr. Goodwin or—if he couldn't suspect her of anything more, really. Tonight's light-hearted raillery surely had put him off that trail. Still, being a Mata Hari to Tom Stafford, she realized, wasn't going to be any steal!

Mr. Goodwin's penthouse was really very special. Built on the tallest apartment building on Pacific avenue, the long drawing room opened wide windows to a whole world of light-spattered hills, of dark Bay waters laced by the topaz lights of the bridges.

The room was full of beautifully dressed, distinguished-looking guests. But Mr. Goodwin's smile welcomed Sharon as if he had been really waiting just for her.

"You did come," he said, clasping her hands. "I was afraid you'd forgotten."

Thrilled so that her breath barricaded her throat, Sharon could only smile, turn politely to include Tom.

Goodwin's greeting to him was casual but friendly.

"Hello, Stafford. Glad to see you," and shook hands cordially. Then, turning again to Sharon. "I want my friends to meet you, Sharon. You'll like them, I'm sure. And—" almost as an afterthought, "you'll like them too, I hope, Stafford."

Sharon was instantly aware of Goodwin's consummate skill in making it seem as if she were the important guest and not, as she well knew, Tom Stafford himself. Tom would certainly never suspect that all this was planned for his benefit. Or rather for Goodwin's benefit! She smiled thoughtfully as Goodwin presented her.

Charming people, his guests. Many of them with very foreign-sounding names. One was a Countess.

"Countess Cayetuna," Goodwin introduced her. "May I present a good friend, Miss Doyle."

The Countess smiled, a lovely, graceful gesture that was, Sharon sensed at once, completely without sincerity.

"Such a pleasure to meet you, Miss Doyle." Her voice was deep, musical. "Harvey has spoken of you so often."

Then she gave her hand to Tom. "How do you do," and raised her dark eyes to his for a long, dramatic moment.

Sharon saw Tom flush uneasily and with difficulty repressed an exultant giggle. If anyone could upset Tom's nonchalance it looked as if it would be the Countess.

"You must be a stranger, Mr. Stafford," her smile letting him have charm that dazzled. "I don't remember having seen you here before."

"I am a stranger here your—I mean—Countess."

"How many there are of us. I too have only been here a short while. But of course, you are not a refugee."

"Well—no." Tom grinned, master of himself again. "Not exactly—unless Hitler has started blitzing Pittsburgh since I left."

"Ah—Pittsburgh. You must tell me about that lovely city." The Countess slipped her hand through Tom's arm as they moved along.

Catching his glance, Sharon smiled wickedly.

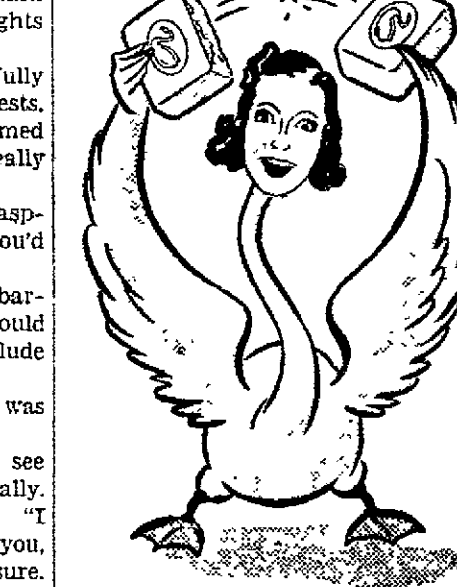

"She's charming, your Countess," she whispered to Goodwin as they went from one group to another smiling, acknowledging introductions.

Goodwin guided her into the dining room where Paolo, his houseboy, presided over a completely equipped, portable bar.

DANGEROUS BAGGAGE

BY ELEANOR ATTERBURY

YESTERDAY: Sharon has plunged with no warning at all into the midst of a plot that is causing Sierra Steel to lose shipment after shipment to the enemy. She is private secretary to Harvey Goodwin, and he has asked her to help him solve the mystery. Her first assignment is a dinner date with Tom Stafford, whom Goodwin believes is part of the plot. Sharon is sorry, however, that a quarrel with her young and very discontented brother had to come this particular day.

Chapter Six

A Stranger Calls
"Going to a movie," Dennis wrote. "I borrowed a twenty from your grocery money. Pay you back tomorrow. You were in the shower so I couldn't ask. Hope it's okay. Have a good time."

Sharon shook her head. She hadn't been in the shower when that phone call came. And you didn't need twenty dollars to go to a movie. More probably it was a poker game somewhere. Just a "friendly" little game—among people who were anything but friends!

Her thoughts still anxiously pursuing him, she unfasted the square white box, folded back the green tissue. Camellias! Lovely waxy pink blossoms pressed flat against their own polished green leaves. How exquisite!

Her attention caught back, she opened the envelope, read Tom's card.

"Pink Perfection they call these posies. Which fits the bill—you're Perfection and so I'm in the Pink. Eight o'clock seems a long way off. T.S."

Idiot! But, in the watery hall mirror, Sharon caught herself smiling happily. Fingers trembling, she pinned the lovely flowers against the soft grey fur of her cape, and couldn't help loving the effect. He had nice taste, that smarty Tom Stafford, even if he hadn't grown up yet. Of course, she added fairly, not many boys educated in American colleges had the cultured charm Harvey Goodwin had acquired. It wasn't really fair to compare them.

Perfect manners, dignity, charm simply wasn't collegiate. Personally, Sharon smiled into the mirror again, she'd take the charming manners. Promptly at eight, the buzzer rang. Tom, of course. She pressed the door latch. Simultaneously, the phone rang.

"Dennis Doyle there?" A strange voice demanded.

"No. Is there any message?" "Who's this talking?" "His sister. Who shall I say called?"

The strange voice didn't answer her. She heard him speak, instead, to someone at his end of the line. "The kid ain't there now. Some dame. Says she's his sister."

Sharon couldn't hear the muttered reply. Then, "Okay, sister. Tell him Gates wants to see him. He'll know."

"Mr. Gates?" "Yeah, dearie. Mister Gates."

His laugh made Sharon recoil. "And tell him to make it snappy."

"Very well," Sharon replied, masking the alarm in her voice. "I'll—"

But the strange Mr. Gates had hung up.

Alarmed, Sharon replaced the receiver, stood staring at it helplessly. Who was Mr. Gates and what could he want of Dennis—demand of him, rather, in that rough, threatening manner? A man like that—his voice—his bullying attitude—surely Dennis couldn't—

Tom was tapping a Morse code on the door. Sharon still hesitated. Still, there was nothing she could do now. With Tom waiting, and besides she had no idea where Dennis had gone, when he'd be back.

She snatched up a pencil, scrawled the message. She'd leave it by the phone where Dennis would see it when he came in. If only she could think of someone, some way to send help. Because, some intuition told her, Dennis was in trouble and he would need help and need it desperately.

The music was sweet, the lights were soft, and Tom was smiling at her across the table for two just on the fringe of the crowded dance floor. It had been perfect, the whole evening. Cocktails at smart Forty Seven Seven first. Then dinner here at the Skyway. Sharon sipped her black coffee, accepted the cigarette Tom proffered.

"Having fun?" he asked.

Smiling, she nodded. "Perfect fun." It had been, too. Tom was so genial a host, so quick to laugh, his company was comfortable as an old slipper. Right from the moment she'd opened the door, faced the flattery in his instant admiration, she'd felt her responsibilities slipping like weights from her shoulders. "I don't think I've ever had such a good time."

And suddenly she realized just how absolutely she'd enjoyed the evening, and how completely she'd forgotten her job! She hadn't learned anything about Tom save his preference in music and cocktails and smooth dancing. And while of course that was a good way to lay the ground work for some future reconnoitering, still she had let a lot of time escape.

She looked across the table at the profile Tom turned toward her as he sat, relaxed, smoking, watching the dancing couples. That man, she reminded herself, was a dangerous agent of a dangerous enemy. His job was to betray, to destroy, to deceive. Mr. Goodwin knew that. And here she sat actually enjoying him as if he were an old friend. No doubt that was exactly as Mr. Tom Stafford had intended it should be, too.

She drew a long breath. How easily, how nearly she'd come to letting herself be fooled too by that deceivingly "open" countenance Tom wore so convincingly.

Tom heard the sigh, turned to her instantly. "Tired?" "Oh, not—then she remembered. "Yes—a little. It's so crowded here."

Deliriously crowded with San Francisco's smartest people, with excitement, with lovely music. Regretting it, Sharon assumed a bored little smile. "Besides I really must drop in on Mr. Goodwin's housewarming," she added, carefully casual.

Tom's smile disappeared. "That guy again?"

"He asked me to come. He's having a few friends in to see his new penthouse."

"And you really want to go?" Sharon met his eyes. "I think I should go. I hate to leave you but—"

She watched him, held her breath. "You're not leaving me," he replied, pushing back his chair. "If you must go to anybody's party you're going under my personal supervision."

Sharon could breathe again. That had been almost too easy. "I was hoping you'd say that. I'd rather dread going alone."

Tom looked at her sharply and for a minute she thought she had gone too far. Then, "Don't give me that, my sweet," he said, laughing. "You're not pulling any wool over anybody's eyes!"

For anxious moments, Sharon tried hard to decide whether he was just teasing her about Mr. Goodwin or—but he couldn't suspect her of anything more, really. Tonight's light-hearted raillery surely had put him off that trail. Still, being a Mata Hari to Tom Stafford, she realized, wasn't going to be any stall!

Mr. Goodwin's penthouse was really very special. Built on the tallest apartment building on Pacific avenue, the long drawing room opened wide windows to

DAIRY RECORDS FOR 3 MONTHS TOLD BY TESTER

C. J. Andrews, tester for the Adams County Dairy Herd Improvement Association, has submitted reports covering the last three months of 1941 which show progressively improving average butterfat records for the member herds.

The report for the month of October shows that there were 24 herds on test with 39 cows producing over 40 pounds of butterfat per cow and 14 animals giving over 50 pounds of butterfat per cow.

The highest producing cow, a registered Holstein in the Willebrandt herd, Zora, produced 1,891 pounds of milk testing 4.4 per cent butterfat, a total of 83.2 pounds butterfat for the month. A registered Ayrshire cow in the Spicer herd produced 1,823 pounds milk testing 4.0 per cent butterfat, a total of 72.9 pounds butterfat for the month.

The following herds were represented in the group with more than 40 pounds butterfat production: Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, C. B. Spicer, Edgar Weaver, Martin Walter, Joseph Stoner, M. L. Shifman, Norman King, Clayton Jester, Irwin Hostetter, B. F. Griffin, Basom and Rider, Max Anderson, Mrs. Rose Murren, Vernon Baker, Edgar Leer.

November Improvement

For the month of November there were 23 herds in the Association with 33 cows producing over 40 pounds butterfat and 18 cows producing over 50 pounds butterfat. Cows producing over 40 pounds butterfat were located in the herds of: Edgar Weaver, Grover Yingling, Mrs. Willebrandt, Martin Walter, Joseph Stoner, M. L. Shifman, Norman King, Clayton Jester, B. F. Griffin, Basom and Rider, Guy Goodfellow, C. B. Spicer, Edgar Leer.

For the month of December there were 23 herds on test with 46 cows producing over 40 pounds butterfat and 26 cows producing over 50 pounds butterfat. Cows producing over 40 pounds butterfat were located in the herds of: Edgar Leer, Vernon Baker, Mrs. Rose Murren, C. B. Spicer, Guy Goodfellow, Basom and Rider, B. F. Griffin, Irwin Hostetter, Clayton Jester, Norman King, Glenn Stoner, M. L. Shifman, Joseph Stoner, Martin Walter, Mrs. Willebrandt, Grover Yingling, Edgar Weaver.

December Record Best

The average production of the 'en highest cows for October was 1,494 pounds milk and 59.9 pounds butterfat; for November, 1,570 pounds milk and 64.4 pounds butterfat; for December 1,919 pounds milk and 66.7 pounds butterfat.

High production of milk and butterfat is made possible first by the inherited ability of the cow, breeding is a very important factor together with adequately feeding a balanced ration, providing an abundance of water, comfortable quarters, and good herd management practices, an association spokesman stated.

Americans Should Be Good Gunners

Miami, Fla., Feb. 4 (AP)—American kids, says veteran trapshoot expert Joe Heistand, ought to make the best aerial gunners in the world "because they've learned almost from childhood how to shoot quickly."

"From what pursuit flyers say about it, I believe almost any good trapshooter could make a good air gunner—provided of course he had the high degree of courage necessary," explained the Hillsboro, Ohio, ace, whose feat of breaking 1,179 successive targets stands as a world's record.

Bird hunting—a pastime of thousands of American youngsters—probably is only slightly less effective than trapshooting for developing the ability to shoot quickly and accurately, Heistand believes.

The Spirit That Never Dies

Buck Private And Sergeant Discuss Rumors

By CLARK LEE

With the U. S. Army in Luzon, Feb. 3 (Delayed) (AP)—The scene is Corregidor island and two American soldiers—typical members of the hard-bitten forces writing a brilliant new chapter of U. S. Army history here in the Philippines—are discussing the war.

Private Howe Williams, 21, a lanky, red-headed southerner, begins the conversation:

"Hiya, sergeant! Any good rumors today?"

Sergeant Ken Johnson, a midwesterner in his thirties with six years in the Army, has a ready answer:

What a Rumor!

"Sure—a convoy a hundred miles long and 30 miles wide'll be here in three days. They're goin' to land a million men at Lingayen behind the Japs, while the Navy closes in between Formosa and Luzon and bottles up all their ships and the B-17's (long range bombers) blast h--- out of Tokyo."

Pvt. Williams: "Sure, I heard those rumors two weeks ago."

Sgt. Johnson: "Okay, okay. Well, seriously, though, here's some dope I got from a pal who works in MacArthur's headquarters. You know how our help's comin'? They're buildin' a bridge from San Francisco to Manila—and they've already finished the first quarter mile."

Pvt. Williams: "While they're finishin' it I sure wish that Fourth Army'd hike out here across the water double-quick."

Sgt. Johnson: "Keep your shirt on, fella. Uncle Sam is gettin' busy and he's gonna start really buildin' those airplanes."

Fleets of Planes

Pvt. Williams (waxing enthusiastic): "You bet! When he gets his sleeves rolled up he'll turn out so many they'll fly over here all day long so thick we can't even see the sun."

Sgt. Johnson: "Yes, sir! They'll do slow rolls over the rock (Corregidor) for 48 hours straight. Certainly will be a pretty sight."

Pvt. Williams (coming back to earth): "Yeah—if we're here to see it."

Sgt. Johnson: "Well, I guess we can wait awhile for our help provided those boys over on Batan know for sure it's comin' some day before too long. They're doin' all right."

Pvt. Williams: "Those American fliers at Rangoon are right on the beam, too."

Sgt. Johnson: "So was the Navy down in Malacca or Macassar or whatever they call those straits. Those Japs sure are spread out, an' one good lickin' any place oughta gum up their whole schedule."

Pvt. Williams: "That artillery fire over on Batan keep you awake?"

Sgt. Johnson: "H--- no. I'm used to it. You hear us poundin' them on the other side, too?"

Battery Busting

(Corregidor is only one of the islands guarding the mouth of Manila bay. By "the other side" Williams meant the islands south of Corregidor, which constitute the southern front of the American forces.)

Pvt. Williams: "Yeah, we sure poured it into 'em at Ternate the other day. That dust shot 400 feet up into the air. That was my battery."

(A communique issued from General MacArthur's headquarters Sunday announced that Corregidor's big guns had wiped out a concentration of Japanese barges and troops assembled at Ternate, 25 miles to the south across Manila bay, apparently for an assault on the island fortress.)

Sgt. Johnson: "Well, I sure wish I could let my family know I'm okay."

Pvt. Williams: "I bet my mammy and pappy done forgot they had a son. They probably sawed my corner off the dinner table."

Sgt. Johnson: "Well, let's leave the war to Roosevelt and MacArthur and get back to work."

"See You In Tokyo"

Pvt. Williams: "Yeah, I gotta go write Tojo's name on some 12-inch shells."

Sgt. Johnson: "See you in Manila."

Pvt. Williams: "Manila? You mean Tokyo. If they send us five or six airplanes we'll be in Tokyo by the Fourth of July eatin' that sooky yakee."

Sgt. Johnson: "I'll settle for a small steak, well done. But we can try some of that beer, anyhow. It sure will be good to taste beer again."

TRAIN WATCHER

Philadelphia, Feb. 4 (AP)—Three-year-old Michael Hyska, who likes to watch the trains, strolled into a Reading railroad yard yesterday and calmly sat upon the tracks to wait until one came by. The frantic engineer managed to halt a long string of empty cars just in time.
